Violent Minds Matthew Levay, 2019-01-03 Just as cultural attitudes toward criminality were undergoing profound shifts in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries modernist authors became fascinated by crime and its perpetrators as well as the burgeoning genre of crime fiction Throughout the period a diverse range of British and American novelists took the criminal as a case study for experimenting with forms of psychological representation while also drawing on the conventions of crime fiction in order to imagine new ways of conceptualizing the criminal mind Matthew Levay traces the history of that attention to criminal psychology in modernist fiction placing understudied authors like Wyndham Lewis Dorothy Sayers Graham Greene and Patricia Highsmith in dialogue with more canonical contemporaries like Joseph Conrad Henry James Dashiell Hammett and Gertrude Stein Levay demonstrates criminality's pivotal role in establishing quintessentially modernist forms of psychological representation and brings to light modernism's deep but understudied connections to popular literature especially crime fiction Food, Religion and Communities in Early Modern Europe Christopher Kissane, 2018-06-14 Using a three part structure focused on the major historical subjects of the Inquisition the Reformation and witchcraft Christopher Kissane examines the relationship between food and religion in early modern Europe Food Religion and Communities in Early Modern Europe employs three key case studies in Castile Zurich and Shetland to explore what food can reveal about the wider social and cultural history of early modern communities undergoing religious upheaval Issues of identity gender cultural symbolism and community relations are analysed in a number of different contexts The book also surveys the place of food in history and argues the need for historians not only to think more about food but also with food in order to gain novel insights into historical issues This is an important study for food historians and anyone seeking to understand the significant issues and events in early modern Europe from a fresh perspective The Modern Quarterly ,1923 The Nuremberg Trials: International Criminal Law Since 1945 Herbert R. Reginbogin, Christoph Safferling, 2011-11-30 60 years after the trials of the main German war criminals the articles in this book attempt to assess the Nuremberg Trials from a historical and legal point of view and to illustrate connections contradictions and consequences In view of constantly reoccurring reports of mass crimes from all over the world we have only reached the halfway point in the quest for an effective system of international criminal justice With the legacy of Nuremberg in mind this volume is a contribution to the search for answers to questions of how the law can be applied effectively and those committing crimes against humanity be brought to justice for their actions Modern Quarterly ,1924 Foundational Texts in Modern Criminal Law Markus Dirk Dubber, 2014 This volume contributes to the emergence of a transnational canon of criminal law by critically engaging with formative texts in criminal legal thought since Hobbes The Modern Quarterly Series ,1923 The Contemporary Review ,1878 The New Criminology Max Gustav Schlapp, Edward Henry Smith, 1928 Contemporary Review ,1878 *California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District).
