Contemporary Educational Administration William G. Monahan, Herbert R. Hengst, 1982 Educational Administration Luvern L. Cunningham, Walter G. Hack, Raphael O. Nystrand, 1977 Issues and Problems in Contemporary Educational Administration Keith Goldhammer, William D. Aldridge, John E. Suttle, Gerald L. 100 Becker, 1967 Issues and Problems in Contemporary Educational Administration Keith Goldhammer, 1967 Major issues and problems facing public school superintendents were defined through an analysis of conferences and personal interviews with 47 administrators of various sized districts in 22 states Assisting the research team were personnel from 11 state departments of education six regional educational laboratories 36 colleges and universities and the USOE Findings of the study indicate that public school superintendents are apprehensive and concerned Many feel their training was inadequate for the conditions under which they now work and question the value of the few in service training programs available to them They find it difficult to define proper actions for themselves and their school districts especially with regard to educational change teacher militancy aspects of instruction administrative leadership critical social issues and educational finance Recommendations are made relative to the services which should be provided to superintendents by colleges and universities state departments of education regional educational laboratories administrators associations the university council for educational administration and the USOE Knowing Educational Administration Colin W. Evers, C. W. Evers, Gabriele Lakowski, 1991 Educational administration is a field currently undergoing great intellectual change The dominant scientific tradition now competes with a range of alternative systematically different accounts of such major concerns in the field as the nature of administrative and organizational theory explaining and improving educational leadership and practice the place of values and human subjectivity in our accounts of educational organizations the nature of educational policy and the conduct of research Knowing Educational Administration surveys and analyzes all of the most important theories in the field However as differences among these theories reflect ultimately different philosophical positions the book offers a new philosophical perspective on educational administration For administrative theories to count as sound knowledge they must meet the demands of our best theories of knowledge The book outlines and defends a particular coherentist view of knowledge and then uses that view both to criticize existing administrative theories and to develop a distinctive alternative The alternative is a new postpositivist science of administration which is able to include ethics and subjectivity within the scope of sound administrative knowledge Contemporary School Administration Theodore J. Contemporary Issues in Educational Policy and School Outcomes Wayne K. Hoy, Cecil G. Miskel, 2006 This book is the fifth in a series on research and theory dedicated to advancing our understanding of schools through empirical study and theoretical analysis Scholars both young and established are invited to publish original analyses but we especially encourage young scholars to contribute to this series The current volume is similar to its predecessors in that it provides a mix of beginning and established scholars and a broad range of theoretical perspectives in all 14 authors contributed to 9 separate but related analyses which were selected for publication this year These chapters underscore the significance of educational policy in contemporary public education and in particular the impact of accountability policy on school outcomes Public schools are increasingly being held accountable for students achieving at higher levels in both basic skills and higher level learning outcomes Of course all policy is enacted by teachers in classroom and sometimes changed or distorted in the process The challenge is to improve student outcomes without permitting accountability testing to extinguish innovation and creativity in schools This book series on Theory and Research in Educational Administration is about understanding schools We welcome articles and analyses that explain school organizations and administration We are interested in the why questions about schools To that end case analyses surveys large data base analyses experimental studies and theoretical analyses are all welcome We provide the space for authors to do comprehensive analyses where that is appropriate and useful We believe that the Theory and Research in Educational Administration Series has the potential to make an important contribution to our field but we will be successful only if our colleagues continue to join us in this mission

The Contemporary Superintendent Lars G. Bjork, Theodore J. Feminist Perspectives on Contemporary Educational Leadership Kay Fuller, 2021-11-29

This timely book explores how various feminist perspectives fruitfully explain women's experience of educational leadership drawing on a contemporary conceptualisation of fourth wave feminism that is intersectional and inclusive. The book asks which and whose feminist theory is used to explain gender and feminism in educational leadership management and administration. ELMA the scholar's research participant's or a combination of the two in the co-construction of knowledge from an intersectional feminist perspective. It conceptualises intersectional and inclusive feminist perspectives on educational leadership theorising research through a Black British feminist perspective, a gender and Islamic perspective and a queer theory perspective depending on the self-identification of participants. It explores digital feminism and men's pro feminism. The book identifies feminist leadership praxis as a focus for future research and explores how leaders can draw on funds of knowledge, identity, cultural wealth and lead and educate diverse populations of students. Highlighting the importance of intersectional feminist perspectives in ELMA the book will appeal to scholars, researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of inclusive educational leadership and management, gender studies and feminism.

Educational Administration and History Tanya Fitzgerald, Helen Gunter, 2013-10-18

In the past 40 years there have been a number of significant developments across the fields of educational administration and history. In this volume the authors have selected a number of key issues to illustrate and trace these changes. The seven articles by leading scholars in the field offer an analysis of contemporary educational administration history and policy debates and how this has impacted on teachers, leaders, schools and the education sector. This book offers readers a valuable insight into continuing and contemporary debates in the field and the authors offer a refreshing interpretation of these debates. This book provides a rich analysis from a range of theoretical, methodological perspectives and highlights the extent to which these debates remain a contemporary concern. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Educational Administration and History.
