Contesting Countryside Cultures Otherness Marginalisation And Rurality:

Contested Countryside Cultures Paul J. Cloke, Jo Little, 1997 This theoretical framework reveals how notions of the rural have been created to reflect and reinforce divisions amongst those living in the countryside

Country Cottages Karen Sayer, 2000 This text is about the country cottage It is a thematic social and cultural history of the country cottage as labourer's home as gendered space and as icon of Englishness

The Power of Planning Oren Yiftachel, Jo Little, David Hedgcock, Ian Alexander, 2012-12-06 The book addresses critically the question What is the societal impact of urban and regional planning It begins with a theoretical discussion and then analyses through a series of case studies the intentions contents struggles and consequences of urban and regional planning It shows that plans and policies often defy the commonly perceived role of advancing equality justice development and amenity by causing social problems marginalisation and inequalities The book looks at planning from a critical distance without a priori belief in its necessity or usefulness The 12 chapters written by renowned international scholars demonstrate the multiplicity of social and political struggles over the contested terrain of spatial policies The book focuses on four key areas where the impact of planning is explored the community power gender relations ethnic tensions and social polarisation while comparing three societies Australia Israel and England Audience This volume is mainly intended for faculty and students of academia but also for urban professionals and policy makers The book is relevant to fields such as urban and regional planning geography political science urban studies urban sociology urban anthropology ethnic and gender relations

Rural Racism Neil Chakraborti, Jon Garland, 2013-05-13 Rural issues are currently attracting unprecedented levels of interest with the debates surrounding the future of traditional rural customs and practice becoming a significant political concern However the problem of racism in rural areas has been largely overlooked by academics practitioners and researchers who have sought almost exclusively to develop an understanding of racism in urban contexts This book aims to address this oversight by examining notions of ethnic identity otherness and racist victimisation that have tended to be marginalised from traditional rural discourse

Leadership and Local Power in European Rural Development Imre Kovách, 2017-05-15 Contemporary processes of economic social political and cultural restructuring are having profound impacts on the form and function of rural areas within the countries of the European Union and beyond Furthermore rural development policies and programmes at EU and national levels have been critical in shaping the responses of different rural areas across Europe to these wider processes of restructuring Contrasting empirical studies of ten European countries this volume provides a comprehensive analysis of the restructuring processes and the various national regional and local rural development programmes Adopting a different national perspective in each chapter it focuses particularly on issues of power and leadership in the evolution and administration of these programmes Five broad issues are examined in each case socio economic changes in rural areas the administrative context in which rural development and political activities take place the sociological context the political control of rural development and the use of different discourses of rurality in shaping the development process The Rural Richard Munton, 2017-05-15 The rural has long been regarded as an important site of geographical inquiry even if our understanding of it has not always been treated as conceptually different from the urban That said rural research has pursued a number of distinct empirical agendas ranging from the operation and impacts of agribusiness to local resistance to global food supply chains to differing representations of the rural In doing so rural geographers have critically examined the relevance and significance of ideas drawn from numerous traditions including political economy ecological modernization and cultural theory amending them as appropriate in their search to understand the nature and trajectory of rural areas Up until the 1980s attention remained largely focused upon agriculture as the primary land use but increasingly new forms of rural consumption housing recreation nature conservation have taken centre stage as the primacy of local agricultures has been undermined by reduced state protection and new rural populations which have migrated out from the city More recently research has been dominated by the cultural turn with particular emphases upon society nature relations interpretations of landscape marginalised others and analyses of the relations between representation and practice In the last decade a more holistic view of the rural bringing together different aspects of the two previous themes has emerged through more politically oriented studies of rural governance concerned with the functioning of interest groups participation protest and the allocation and management of resources The volume is thus structured into three sections concerned with agriculture and food the rural and rural governance The great majority of the selected papers combine both empirical material often highly informative case studies and important conceptual arguments about change in the rural condition that can be linked to ideas being employed elsewhere in Geography and the Social Sciences more generally These critical reflections have been drawn very largely from research conducted in advanced economies which at least provide some commonality of experience allowing the transfer of ideas between what otherwise might be seen as very differing geographical contexts Tourism and the Reworking of Rural Vermont, 1880s-1970s Blake A. Harrison, 2003

Environment & Planning, 2006 Majority Cultures and the Everyday Politics of Ethnic Difference Bo Petersson, Katharine Tyler, 2008-05-29 Examining the ways in which majority Western cultures govern represent and exclude those that are considered to be ethically other this book asks what is the impact of globalization governance and Western immigration controls on the construction of the majority self and the minority other BELGEO., 2007 The Dictionary of Human Geography Derek Gregory, 2009 The Dictionary of Human Geography continues to be the one guidebook no student instructor or researcher in the field can afford to be without BOOK JACKET "In Comes I" Mike Pearson, 2006 In Comes I explores performance and land biography and locality memory and place The book reflects on performances past and present taking the form of a series of excursions into the agricultural landscape of eastern England and drawing from archaeology geomorphology folklore and local and family history Mike Pearson a leading theatre artist and solo performer returns to the landscape of his childhood off the beaten track in Lincolnshire and uses it as a mnemonic to reflect widely upon performance theory and practice Rather than focusing on author period and genre as is conventional in the study of drama the book takes region as its optic acknowledging the affective ties between people and place Offering new approaches to the study of performance Pearson integrates intensely personal narrative with analytical reflection juxtaposing anecdote with theoretical insight dramatic text with interdisciplinary perception The performances ranging from folk drama to contemporary site specific work are seen in the light of their relationship to their cultural and physical environment
