Contesting The Monument:

Approaching Monumentality in Archaeology James F. Osborne, 2014-10-24 Interdisciplinary study of monumental art and architecture in human history Monumentality is a human phenomenon that has occurred in nearly all times and places Because of its ubiquity monumentality is something that has been studied by a large number of disciplines and individuals Approaching Monumentality in Archaeology explores the phenomenon of monumental art and architecture from humankind's most ancient past to recent history and does so using an interdisciplinary approach that incorporates the research of anthropological archaeologists art historians classicists and sociologists working in a wide variety of historical and cultural contexts The volume seeks to define what is meant by the terms monument and monumentality and to understand the social and political significance of monument building as it has manifested around the world By advocating for a relational approach to the topic that seeks to find monumentality in the ongoing relationship between object and person this book offers the opportunity to begin the process of uniting these varied interests into a unified discourse

Postmigration, Transculturality and the Transversal Politics of Art Anne Ring Petersen, 2023-11-16 This is the first book to develop a postmigrant analytical perspective for the study of art concentrating on how postmigration reopens the study of contemporary art and migration The book introduces art historians and other scholars with a methodological interest in cultural analysis to the innovative concept of postmigration offering a comprehensive introduction to the various meanings and uses of the term as well as translating it methodologically to an art historical context The book analyses art projects from Denmark Germany and Great Britain which address some of the current challenges to European societies of immigration and by drawing on theory from fields such as migration studies transcultural studies and feminist postcolonial and political theory as well as re-engaging established concepts such as imagination commemoration belonging identity racialization community public space and participation The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history art and politics migration studies and transcultural studies The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Funded by The Novo Nordisk Foundation The Novo Nordisk Foundation's Committee on Research in Art and Art History Grant No NNF19OC0053992

Monument Reporter, 1903 Contested Urban Spaces Ulrike Capdepón, Sarah Dornhof, 2022-02-09 This book takes the urban space as a starting point for thinking about practices actors narratives and imaginations within articulations of memory The social protests and mobilizations against colonial statues are examples of how past injustice and violence keep on shaping debates in the present Following an interdisciplinary approach the contributions to this book focus on the visibility and affective power of monuments and traces through political activist and artistic contestations in different geographical settings They show that memories are shaped in contact zones most often in conflict and within hierarchical social relations The notion of decentered memory shifts the perspective to relationships between imperial centers and margins remembrance and erasure nationalistic tendencies and migration This plurality of connections emerges around unfinished histories of violence and resistance that are reflected in monuments and traces The Oxford Handbook of Ethics and Art James Harold,2023 Art has not always had the same salience in philosophical discussions of ethics that many other elements of our lives have There are well defined areas of applied ethics corresponding to nature business health care war punishment animals and more but there is no recognized research program in applied ethics of the arts or art ethics Art often seems to belong to its own sphere of value separate from morality The first questions we ask about art are usually not about its moral rightness or virtue but about its beauty or originality However it is impossible to do any serious thinking about the arts without engaging in ethical questions

Contested Antiquity Esther Solomon,2021-02-02 While the archaeological legacies of Greece and Cyprus are often considered to represent some of the highest values of Western civilization democracy progress aesthetic harmony and rationalism this much adored and heavily touristed heritage can quickly become the stage for clashes over identity and memory In Contested Antiquity Esther Solomon curates explorations of how those who safeguard cultural heritage are confronted with the best ways to represent this heritage responsibly How should visitors be introduced to an ancient Byzantine fortification that still holds the grim reminders of the cruel prison it was used as until the 1980s How can foreign archaeological institutes engage with another nation's heritage in a meaningful way What role do locals have in determining what is sacred and can this sense of the sacred extend beyond buildings to the surrounding land Together the essays featured in Contested Antiquity offer fresh insights into the ways ancient heritage is negotiated for modern times
