John Murray (Firm)

Continent In Limbo:

Continent in Limbo Edith Sulkin, 2000-10-07 A personal story of Europe's people in the crucial years 1946-47. The guns were silent but the peace had not yet begun. Edith Sulkin traveled as a 23-year-old reporter through England, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Holland, and Germany. This report is in terms of people rather than governments. Equipped with their language and the knowledge of how to approach them, she was able to assemble a remarkable picture of how the people of Europe came through the war. Sulkin found a continent suspended between the ideologies of the East and West with many of its people desperately seeking the harbor of a middle way. Continent in Limbo, 1947

Visual Cultures of Africa Mary Clare Kidenda, Lize Kriel, Ernst Wagner, 2022-04-06 The voices in this book offer a multi-perspectival approach to Africa, focusing on the skills and the knowledge underpinning visual cultural expressions ranging from Akan symbolism to embodied performances by dancers and storytellers, even re-designed models of Western cars. Educators, designers, artists, critics, curators, and custodians based both in Africa and in Europe are configuring spaces for public-private institutional as well as digital conversation, whether through pottery or portraiture, furniture or film, shoes or selfies, buildings or books. Readers are encouraged to question how African visual cultures are both in and of identifying and confrontational post- and decolonial, preserved and practised, old and new, borrowed and authentic, composite and complete, rooted and soaring. Disciplines being engaged include visual culture studies, media studies, performance studies, orature, literature, art, and design, as well as their histories. The editors Mary Clare Kidenda, Lize Kriel, and Ernst Wagner represent three nodes in the Exploring Visual Cultures north-south collaborative network: The Technical University of Kenya, the University of Pretoria in South Africa, and Munich Academy of Fine Arts in Germany. Through Other Continents Wai Chee Dimock, 2008-10-20 What we call American literature is quite often a shorthand, a simplified name for an extended tangle of relations. This is the argument of Through Other Continents. Wai Chee Dimock's sustained effort to read American literature as a subset of world literature, inspired by an unorthodox archive ranging from epic traditions in Akkadian and Sanskrit to folk art paintings by Veronese and Tiepolo and the music of the Grateful Dead, Dimock constructs a long history of the world, a history she calls deep time. The civilizations of Mesopotamia, India, Egypt, China, and West Africa, as well as Europe, leave their mark on American literature, which looks dramatically different when it is removed from a strictly national or English language context. Key authors such as Thoreau, Margaret Fuller, Ezra Pound, Robert Lowell, Gary Snyder, Leslie Silko, Gloria Naylor, and Gerald Vizenor are transformed in this light. Emerson emerges as a translator of Islamic culture; Henry James's novels become long distance kin to Gilgamesh; and Black English loses its ungrammaticalness when reclassified as a creole tongue meshing the input from Africa, Europe, and the Americas. Throughout, Dimock contends that American literature is answerable not to the nation-state but to the human species as a whole, and that it looks dramatically different when removed from a strictly national or English language context. Fred D'Aguiar and Caribbean Literature Leo Courbot, 2019-02-26 With Fred D

Aguiar and Caribbean Literature Metaphor Myth Memory Leo Courbot offers the first research monograph entirely dedicated to a comprehensive reading of the verse and prose works of Fred D Aguiar prized American author of Anglo Guyanese origin Postcolonial criticism when related to the history of the African diaspora regularly inscribes itself in the wake of Sartrean philosophy However Fred D Aguiar s both typical and untypical Caribbean background in addition to the singularity of his diction call for a different approach which Leo Courbot convincingly carries out by reading literature in the light of Jacques Derrida and douard Glissant s less conventional sense of the intrinsically metaphorical and cross cultural nature of language

Africa-China Cooperation Philani Mthembu,Faith Mabera,2020-10-01 This book offers a range of perspectives on the Africa China partnership in the context of the Forum on China and Africa Cooperation FOCAC Incorporating historical political social and cultural dimensions it offers innovative views on the Africa China relationship that combine theory and practice and critically examines the prospects of a Pan African policy towards China complementary to China s comprehensive African policy The chapters address a number of key questions including What steps are being taken to achieve a more coordinated approach and policy towards China on the African continent Does Africa even need a collective strategy in the first place How would a coherent policy framework affect Africa s relations with Europe and other external partners How do the pillars of the partnership align with the African Union s Agenda 2063 and the United Nation s 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development
