Continuing Presences Virginia Woolf's Use Of Literary Allusion:

Continuing Presences Beverly Ann Schlack, 1979 Virginia Woolf's Common Reader Katerina

Koutsantoni, 2016-02-11 In the first comprehensive study of Virginia Woolf's Common Reader Katerina Koutsantoni draws on theorists from the fields of sociology sociolinguistics philosophy and literary criticism to investigate the thematic pattern underpinning these books with respect to the persona of the common reader Though these two volumes are the only ones that Woolf compiled herself they have seldom been considered as a whole As a result what they reveal about Woolf's position with regard to the processes of writing reading and critical analysis has not been fully examined Koutsantoni challenges the critical commonplace that equates Woolf's strategy of self effacement and personal removal from her works as a necessary compromise that allowed her to achieve authorial recognition in a male dominated context Rather Koutsantoni argues that an investigation of impersonality in Woolf's essays reveals the potential of the genre to function both as a vehicle for the subjective and dialogic expression of the author and reader and as a venue for exploring topics with which the ordinary reader can relate As she explores and challenges the meaning of impersonality in Woolf's Common Reader Koutsantoni shows how the related issues of subjectivity authority reader response intersubjectivity and dialogism offer useful perspectives from which to examine Woolf's work The Cambridge Companion to To The Lighthouse Allison Pease, 2015 Written by leading international scholars of Woolf and modernism The Cambridge Companion to To The Lighthouse will be of interest to students and scholars alike Virginia Woolf, New Critical Essays Patricia Clements, Isobel Grundy, 1983

Virginia Woolf and the Literature of the English Renaissance Alice Fox, 1990 A study of the influence of sixteenth and seventeenth century literature on Virginia Woolf's novels and criticism which offers new interpretations and enriches our understanding of Woolf's creative process The Experimental Self Judy Little, 1996 Drawing on Bakhtin Derrida Foucault Lyotard and other modern thinkers Little English Southern Illinois U challenges the notion that Western individuality is oppressive and destructive and examines the political complexity of the self in the novels of 20th century women Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Passage through Hell David L. Pike, 2018-09-05 Taking the culturally resonant motif of the descent to the underworld as his guiding thread David L Pike traces the interplay between myth and history in medieval and modernist literature Passage through Hell suggests new approaches to the practice of comparative literature and a possible escape from the current morass of competing critical schools and ideologies Pike's readings of Louis Ferdinand Celine and Walter Benjamin reveal the tensions at work in the modern appropriation of structures derived from ancient and medieval descents His book shows how these structures were redefined in modernism and persist in contemporary critical practice In order to recover the historical corpus of modernism he asserts it is necessary to acknowledge the attraction that medieval forms and motifs held for modernist literature and theory By pairing the writings of the postwar German dramatist and novelist Peter Weiss with Dante's Commedia and Christine de Pizan with Virginia Woolf

Pike argues for a new level of complexity in the relation between medieval and modern poetics Pike's supple and persuasive reading of the Commedia resituates that text within the contradictions of medieval tradition He contends that the Dantean allegory of conversion altered to suit the exigencies of modernism maintains its hold over current literature and theory The postwar writers Pike treats Weiss Seamus Heaney and Derek Walcott exemplify alternate strategies for negotiating the legacy of modernism The passage through hell emerges as a way of disentangling images of the past from their interpretation in the present

The Search for Quotation Richard L. Schultz, 1999-01-01 A thorough study of quotation within ancient and modern literatures is the background for this new approach to alleged quotations within the prophetic writings The common claim that specific verbal parallels result from the conscious repetition of the words of a predecessor is beset by difficulties After examining quotation in non prophetic ancient Near Eastern early Jewish Old Testament wisdom and narrative and modern Western literatures Schultz proposes a new model for interpreting verbal parallels that utilizes several criteria for identifying quotation and combines diachronic with synchronic analysis He then applies this model to five representative verbal parallels involving the book of Isaiah This book illustrates how an awareness of the versatility of quotation facilitates a more accurate interpretation of verbal parallels and at the same time calls for greater caution in employing them in support of various theories

Elegiac Fictions Edward Engelberg, 1989 In dealing with the motif of the un-lived life Edward Engelberg explores an important and hitherto neglected chapter in the history of modern thought He analyzes literary works chiefly from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries novels short stories and some plays within the context of a number of psychological and philosophical concepts to sustain his argument Engelberg's premise is that in this period we begin to see what he calls the elegizing of the self that is mourning over one's shortcomings failures disappointments in short the un-lived life the perception that the hero or heroine has missed the opportunities of living that it is now too late to achieve what has become known today as self actualization Engelberg also analyzes how the motif was acted out and what symptoms accompanied its expression To this end he makes use of Freud's essays Mourning and Melancholia and On Narcissism as well as the idea of narcissistic rage advanced by Heinz Kohut In addition he draws upon Schopenhauer's pessimism Nietzsche's conception of history and Max Scheler's theory of resentment This study then identifies a special state of mind the elegiac cries of despair that emanate from a wide variety of fictional personae There are no simple answers as to why these feelings were expressed so frequently and passionately from the Romantics onward but one cause is surely the double edged effect of the emergence of the autonomous self With autonomy came anxiety fear and a feeling of impotence And these states in turn generated a variety of reactions self images of superfluousness expressions of narcissistic rage and states of mourning and melancholia The book will interest a variety of constituencies beyond the literary
