Contract With the Skin Kathy O'Dell, Having yourself shot Putting out fires with your bare hands and feet Biting your own body and photographing the marks Sewing your own mouth shut These seemingly aberrant acts were committed by performance artists during the 1970s Why would anyone do these things What do these kinds of masochistic performances tell us about the social and historical context in which they occurred Focusing on 1970s performance artists Vito Acconci Chris Burden Gina Pane and collaborators Marina Abramovic Ulay as well as those with similar sensibilities from the late 1980s onward Bob Flanagan David Wojnarowicz Simon Leung Catherine Opic Ron Athey Lutz Bacher and Robby Garfinkel O'Dell provides photographic documentation of performances and quotations from interviews with many of the artists Throughout O'Dell asks what we can do about the institutionalized forms of masochism for which these performances are metaphors African American Artists Performing for the Camera After 1970 Martyna Ewa Majewska, 2025-03-27

This study demonstrates how African American artists active since the 1970s have instrumentalized performance for the camera to intervene in existing representations of Black and Brown people in America and beyond Majewska argues that producing carefully designed photographs films and videos via performance became a key strategy for dismantling the conceptions of race and gender fixed by US popular culture jurisprudence and pseudoscience Studying the work of Adrian Piper Glenn Ligon Lyle Ashton Harris Senga Nengudi Maren Hassinger Howardena Pindell David Hammons and Pope L this book examines the ways in which these artists incorporate their bodies and personal experience into their respective performances simultaneously courting and foreclosing autobiographical readings The strategies examined here while diverse all challenge conventional interpretations of performance art especially those overdetermined by race gender and sexuality The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history performance studies photography and African American studies

Performing Endurance Lara Shalson, 2018-10-18 In Performing Endurance Lara Shalson offers a new way of understanding acts of endurance in art and political contexts Examining a range of performances from the 1960s to the present including influential performance art works by Marina Abramovic Chris Burden Tehching Hsieh Linda Montano Yoko Ono and others as well as protest actions from the lunch counter sit ins of the US civil rights movement to protest camps in the twenty first century this book provides a formal account of endurance and illuminates its ethical and political significance Endurance Shalson argues raises vital questions about what it means to exist as a body that both acts and is acted upon from ethical questions about how we respond to the bodies of others to political questions about how we live in relation to institutions that shape life in fundamental ways In addition Performing Endurance rethinks how performance itself endures over time Sex, Gender and Time in Fiction and Culture B. Davies, J. Funke, 2011-03-01 Investigating modern art literature theory and the law this book illustrates the different ways in which sex gender and time intersect It demonstrates that time offers new critical perspectives on sex and gender and makes problematic reductive understandings of sexual identity as well as straight and queer time      Critical Live Art Dominic Johnson, 2016-04-29 Live Art is a contested category not least because of the historical disciplinary and institutional ambiguities that the term often tends to conceal Live Art can be usefully defined as a peculiarly British variation on particular legacies of cultural experimentation a historically and culturally contingent translation of categories including body art performance art time based art and endurance art The recent social and cultural history of the UK has involved specific factors that have crucially influenced the development of Live Art since the late 1970s These have included issues in national cultural politics relating to sexuality gender disability technology and cultural policy In the past decade there has been a proliferation of festivals of Live Art in the UK and growing support for Live Art in major venues Nevertheless while specific artists have been afforded critical essays and monographs there is a relative absence of scholarly work on Live Art as a historically and culturally specific mode of artistic production Through essays by leading scholars and critical interviews with influential artists in the sector Critical Live Art addresses the historical and cultural specificity of contemporary experimental performance and explores the diversity of practices that are carried out programmed read or taught as Live Art This book is based on a special issue of Contemporary Theatre Review

Poetry in General Keegan Cook Finberg, 2025-11-04 In the second half of the twentieth century poetry leapt out of books and became an interdisciplinary public form Poetry entered bureaucratic systems of organization like index card catalogues it pushed the boundaries of privately owned public parks Keegan Cook Finberg argues that poetry became an increasingly capacious force during this period because it could speak directly to the degradation of the social democratic notion of the public Poetry in General explores how poets expanded their practice into the realms of politics work and everyday life from 1960 to the present from the apex of the welfare state to an era of privatization and austerity It considers a compelling array of figures including Yoko Ono George Brecht Frank O Hara Amiri Baraka Bernadette Mayer Eleanor Antin Adrian Piper and M NourbeSe Philip whose works draw on conceptual techniques to transform official documents and spaces Finberg shows how these public texts expose the mechanisms of the neoliberal consensus about work and leisure the state's facilitation of capitalism and enduring racial and gender inequities She also provides politically charged ways to interpret and critique racial capitalism antiabortion legislation and mass debt A new literary and institutional history of postwar poetics this book shows how poetic experiments address the privatization of collective life and rethink the category of the public
