Contracting For Public Services Output Based Aid And Its Application:

Contracting for Public Services Penelope J. Brook, Suzanne Smith, 2001-01-01 A new book published by the World Bank's Private Sector Advisory Services outlines an innovative approach to delivering development assistance for public basic services such as potable water safe sanitation modern energy and primary education and healthcare Called output based aid the approach delegates service delivery to the non profit or for profit private sector under contracts that tie payments to the outputs or results actually delivered to target beneficiaries The book gathers cases of innovative output based approaches from across the infrastructure and social sectors and also provides a checklist for designing and implementing output based schemes From the World Bank website $Price & Profit% : the Essential Guide to Product & Service Pricing and Profit Forecasting : Developing Your Competitive Pricing Strategy : Using Performance-based Contracts and Performance Incentives : the Fundamentals of Cost Estimating and Profit Forecasting : Valuable Contract Negotiation Tools for Buyers and Sellers William R. Berends, 2004 Tournament Approaches to Policy Reform Clifford F. Zinnes, 2009-06-10 While much foreign aid achieves commendable goals some is ineffective In this volume Clifford Zinnes argues that a donor's intrinsic informational limitations on the local context as well as inability to control the progress of interventions mean that lack of success is not rooting in insufficient funding but in maladapted institution designs of interventions that don't foster local ownership He identifies and assesses a newly emerging class of foreign aid delivery that promises to overcome these obstacles The approach is based on prospective inter jurisdictional competition PIJC Beneficiary groups often local level governments supported by their private sector and civil society act as teams and compete against each other under explicit predefined rules and objectives to design and implement interventions under their own aegis to achieve the highest quantitatively measured performance either relative to others tournaments or against a preset benchmark certification Teams that cooperate internally are the likeliest to win the rewards which aside from the longer run benefits of the intervention itself might include more substantive financial or technical assistance from the sponsor Since only groups serious about reforming choose to play Zinnes says the incentives generated by the ensuing race to the top competition create local ownership encouraging recipients to draw on their own knowledge Moreover since all teams that compete and not just those who win donor rewards benefit from their own reform efforts he argues that this approach can leverage aid resources more than a conventional bilateral aid agreement Zinnes presents a dozen recent applications of the approach including those sponsored by the World Bank USAID the United Nations the Ford Foundation and others He also recommends improvements and ways to scale up PIJC based projects in applications ranging from protecting the environment and reducing red tape through to raising literacy and co-opting warlords Abstracts of Public Administration, Development, and Environment , 2001 School Choice International Rajashri Chakrabarti, Paul E.
