Contraction And Convergence The Global Solution To Climate Change:

Contraction & Convergence Aubrey Meyer, 2000 The C C framework which was been pioneered and advocated by GCI at the United Nations throughout the 1990s is the most widely supported framework proposal in the global debate on what to do about climate change

Environmental Regulations and Global Warming Paul Ruschmann, 2009 When the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize went to former Vice President Al Gore and an international scientific body that warned of serious consequences if Earth's temperatures continue to rise the award underscored the international concern about the Earth's changing climate Most scientists agree that global warming is a serious threat and that human beings contribute to it by burning carbon containing fuels such as oil and coal and the international community has moved to limit carbon emissions However some scientists dispute the link between greenhouse gases and global warming Many prominent Americans including members of Congress object to putting limits on carbon emissions arguing that the evidence of warming is still uncertain and cutting emissions would cripple the economy while doing little to curb global warming

Environmental Regulations and Global Warming discusses the debate about whether and how our government should act to protect the Earth's climate

Beyond Kyoto - A New Global Climate Certificate System Lutz Wicke, Jürgen Knebel, 2005 This balanced analysis shows that the current Kyoto Protocol Climate Protection System and other proposals for improving the commitment system may not be capable of meeting the ultimate objective to prevent dangerous anthropogenic interference with the climate system On the other hand says the author there is hope that the implementation of Global Climate Certification Systems are a beginning that offers a chance for mankind to prevent dangerous climate change

Climate Change Ethics Donald A. Brown, 2013 Climate change is now the biggest challenge faced by humanity worldwide and ethics is the crucial missing component in the debate about what to do about this enormous threat This book examines why thirty five years of discussion of human induced warming has failed to acknowledge fundamental ethical concerns and subjects climate change's most important policy questions to ethical analysis This book examines why ethical principles have failed to gain traction in policy formation and recommends specific strategies to ensure that climate change policies are consistent with ethical principles Because climate change is a global problem that requires a global solution and given that many nations refuse participation due to perceived inequities in proposed international solutions this book explains why ensuring that nations sub national governments organizations businesses and individuals acknowledge and respond to their ethical obligations is both an ethical and practical mandate This book is the first of its kind to go beyond a mere account of relevant ethical questions to offer a pragmatic guide on how to make ethical principles influential in formulating the world's response to climate change Written by Donald A Brown a leading voice in the field it should be of interest to policy makers and those studying environmental policy climate change policy international relations environmental ethics and philosophy

report of session 2005 06 Vol 2 Evidence      Carbon Capture and its Storage Clair Gough,2016-12-05 Climate change is arguably the most important environmental issue that the world currently faces Carbon Capture and Storage CCS offers the possibility of significant reductions in the volume of CO<sub>2</sub> released into the atmosphere in the near to medium term As a fairly new technology that has not been widely adopted there remain some uncertainties related to both viability and desirability This book discusses the key issues with regard to technical and legal feasibility economic viability and public and stakeholder perceptions It also provides recommendations for policy and future research      Building a Low-carbon Economy Great Britain. Committee on Climate Change,2008 Climate change resulting from CO<sub>2</sub> and other greenhouse gas emissions poses a huge threat to human welfare To contain that threat the world needs to cut emissions by about 50 per cent by 2050 and to start cutting emissions now A global agreement to take action is vital A fair global deal will require the UK to cut emissions by at least 80 per cent below 1990 levels by 2050 In this report the Committee on Climate Change explains why the UK should aim for an 80 per cent reduction by 2050 and how that is attainable and then recommends the first three budgets that will define the path to 2022 But the path is attainable at manageable cost and following it is essential if the UK is to play its fair part in avoiding the far higher costs of harmful climate change Part 1 of the report addresses the 2050 target The 80 per cent target should apply to the sum of all sectors of the UK economy including international aviation and shipping The costs to the UK from this level of emissions reduction can be made affordable estimated at between 1 2 per cent of GDP in 2050 In part 2 the Committee sets out the first three carbon budgets covering the period 2008 22 and examines the feasible reductions possible in various sectors decarbonising the power sector energy use in buildings and industry reducing domestic transport emissions reducing emissions of non CO<sub>2</sub> greenhouse gases economy wide emissions reductions to meet budgets The third part of the report examines wider economic and social impacts from budgets including competitiveness fuel poverty security of supply and differences in circumstances between the regions of the UK      Stop Global Warming Jonathan Neale,2008 Global warming threatens the planet but people already have the technology to solve the problem The real problem is that those in power and the corporations can't or won't act so it falls to the only force that can challenge them the six billion people of the world Most books on climate change are devoted to showing the scale of the threat we face but offer few solutions Jonathan Neale's approach outlines the case for radical political change that alone can stop global warming and asks How do people organise to achieve this result      Carbon Budgets Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environmental Audit Committee,2010 Incorporating HC 616 i to iv session 2008 09      Reinforcing Asia-Europe Co-operation on Climate Change Asia-Europe Environment Forum. Roundtable,2004      Climate Change as a Crisis in World Civilization Joseph Wayne Smith,David J. C. Shearman,Sandro Positano,2007 This study examines the scientific evidence relating to abrupt or dangerous climate change and explores the social political legal and philosophical significance of this evidence The authors locate the climate crisis within the context of a wider crisis of civilization consisting of a series of

Cromwell,Mark Levene,2007-10-20 In memory of John Theobald our friend and fellow campaigner P v      Converging World A. J. Pontin,Ian Roderick,2007 The principle of contraction and convergence can be applied to climate change showing us a way forward by reducing the ecological footprint of some while increasing that of others Such convergence has many dimensions technological change cultural diversity human rights and political power This Briefing explores these ideas and describes how a charity put these ideas into action Inspired by the work of Social Change and Development SCAD in India the charity has directly reduced carbon emissions by erecting wind turbines in India funded by individuals and businesses with high emissions elsewhere in the world in return for an allocation of the carbon saved The Converging World is an action story which tackles the complexities of climate change environmental degradation and social injustice      International
