The Logic of Enlightenment Dave S. Henley, 2015-11-27 Enlightenment is a special kind of knowledge or insight that lifts the malaise of everyday life But what exactly is it This ground breaking book offers a definitive logical account for the modern mind of the kind of knowledge that spiritual enlightenment provides doing justice both to logic and to spirituality Zen and the Tao have expressed the mystical nature of enlightenment by contradictions and riddles it is shown here that the reason enlightenment must be mystical in this way is that it is complementary to logic expressing changes in the very nature of our understanding It is this that makes our life magically switch from the existentially meaningless to one of profound meaning For this switch to not be mystical our desolation would have to already be solvable in terms of our current conceptions which is precisely what often seems impossible for us This work should appeal both to the believer and the sceptic by revealing the special relationship between spiritual enlightenment and Logic Not only does it use logic to clarify what is meant by enlightenment but it simultaneously shows how the mystical nature of enlightenment clarifies when and when not to use logical reasoning

The Mind and the Brain J.H. Ornstein, 2012-12-06 2 no predictions or experimental findings based on the Identity Theory differ from those based on mind brain Parallelism or Epiphenomenalism i.e Dualism in general The Identity Theory therefore must stand or fall on its reputed conceptual advantages over Dualism Then the conceptual issues at stake in the mind brain problem are discussed The kernel of truth present in the Identity Theory is shown to be obscured by all the talk about reducing sensations to neural processes An attempt is made to characterize pain adequately as a pattern or complex of bodily processes This view is then reconciled with the asymmetry in the way one is aware of one's own pains and the way in which others are This asymmetry constitutes an epistemological dualism which no philosophical theory or scientific experiment could alter The sense in which experiences are both mental and physical is thus elucidated A Multi Aspect Theory of the mind is presented and defended Five aspects of pain are discussed in some detail experiential neural bodily behavioral and verbal Having a mind characteristically involves having all of these features except the bodily i.e a physical irregularity Thus having a mind characteristically entails having experiences and a healthy functioning brain It also involves being able to act and speak reasonably intelligently

Psychological Therapy Klaus Grawe, 2004-06-01 The original edition of Klaus Grawe's book exploring the basis and need for a more generally valid concept of psychotherapy fueled a lively debate among psychotherapists and psychologists in German speaking areas Now available in English this book will help spread the concepts and the debate among a wider audience The book is written in dialog form A practicing therapist a research psychologist and a therapy researcher take part in three dialogs each of which builds on the results of the previous dialog The first dialog explores how therapeutic change takes place while the second looks at how the mechanisms of action of psychotherapy can be understood in terms of basic psychological concepts Finally in the third dialog a psychological theory of psychotherapy is developed The practical implications of this are clearly shown in the form of case examples as well as guidance on indications and treatment planning The dialog ends with suggestions as to how therapy training and provision of psychotherapy could be improved on the basis of the model of psychotherapy that has been developed
