Contrastive Functional Analysis Pragmatics And Beyond New Series:

Contrastive Functional Analysis Andrew Chesterman, 1998-01-01 The concept of similarity lies at the heart of this book on contrastive analysis The author aims to show how contrastive analysis and translation theory make use of similarity in different ways He also explains how it relates to the problematic notions of equivalence and tertium comparationis

Lexical Priming Alan Partington, Eugenia Diegoli, 2025-10-27 This pioneering volume builds on Prof Michael Hoey's seminal work on Lexical Priming LP theory by applying it to specific varieties of Japanese alongside English as a first step in corroborating and expanding the validity of LP theory The book sets the scene by surveying LP research on specific discourse types inspired by Hoey in 2005 and by elucidating the ways in which corpus research discourse and psycholinguistics might be taken together to better understand language acquisition and production in ways neither corpus linguistics nor cognitivism alone could envisage Drawing primarily on a web corpus of Japanese from Q A fora as well as from data from English language sources including Hoey's own studies his unpublished lecture slides given to us and more recent corpora we expand Hoey's notion of priming and seek to confirm the wider applicability of LP theory We begin by discussing the many claims of LP regarding collocation meaning grammar polysemy cohesion and creativity in light of empirical corpus evidence from Japanese and English discourse types We also then show how LP theory has considerable explanatory value in fields not previously envisaged principally evaluation including evaluative cohesion modality and politeness all cognitive phenomena which leave their mark in the linguistic trace we call corpora This volume will be of interest to scholars in language teaching and learning discourse analysis corpus linguistics Japanese linguistics grammar and lexicography

Cross-linguistic Correspondences Thomas Egan, Hildegunn Dirdal, 2017-11-15 Contrastive Linguistics is an expanding field as witnessed by the publication in recent years of an increasing number of monographs collected volumes and journal articles The present volume which comprises an introduction and ten chapters dealing with lexical contrasts between English and other languages shows advances within the well established lexical work in the field Each of the chapters takes lexical items as its starting point and compares English with one or more languages The languages represented are Spanish Lithuanian Swedish German Norwegian and Czech Furthermore they emphasise the link between lexis and grammar not only within the same language but also across languages Finally several studies represent one of the more recent developments of contrastive linguistics namely a growing focus on genre and register comparisons The book should appeal to both established scholars and advanced students with an interest in lexis genre corpus linguistics and or contrastive linguistics

Conjunctive Markers of Contrast in English and French Maïté Dupont, 2021-06-15 Situated at the interface between corpus linguistics and Systemic Functional Linguistics this volume focuses on conjunctive markers expressing contrast in English and French The frequency and placement patterns of the markers are analysed using large corpora of texts from two written registers newspaper editorials and research articles The corpus study revisits the long standing but largely unsubstantiated claim that French requires more explicit markers of cohesive conjunction than English and shows that the opposite is in fact the case Novel insights into the placement preferences of English and French conjunctive markers are provided by a new approach to theme and rheme that attaches more importance to the rheme than previous studies The study demonstrates the significant benefits of a combined corpus and Systemic Functional Linguistics approach to the cross linguistic analysis of cohesion

Patterns in Contrast Jarle Ebeling, Signe Oksefjell Ebeling, 2013-09-17 Combining the fields of phraseology and contrastive analysis this book describes how patterns defined as recurrent word combinations with semantic unity behave cross linguistically As the contrastive approach adopted in the book relies on translations and a bidirectional corpus model the first part offers an in depth discussion of contrastive linguistics with special emphasis on using translations as tertium comparationis and a parallel corpus as the main source of material Central to the contrastive analysis is the use of corpus linguistic methods in the identification of patterns while a deeper understanding of the phraseological nature of the patterns is closely related to the concept of extended units of meaning The second part of the book presents five case studies using an easy to follow step by step method to illustrate the phraseological contrastive approach at work The studies show that patterns weave an intricate web of meanings across languages and demonstrate the potential of exploring patterns in contrast

Time in Languages, Languages in Time Anna Čermáková, Thomas Egan, Hilde Hasselgård, Sylvi Rørvik, 2021-09-17 This volume comprises a collection of contrastive studies on language and time Languages represented include Czech French German Mandarin Norwegian and Swedish all of which are contrasted with English While the amount of published research on temporal relations in general is considerable less work has been carried out on comparing how we talk about time in various languages and how languages change over time Several methodological challenges are addressed and solutions proposed such as how to deal with poor quality historical data and how to identify n grams in typologically different languages for purposes of comparison The results of the various studies show how multilingual corpora can increase our knowledge of language specific features as well as linguistic typological and cultural differences and similarities across languages

The Dynamics of Language Use Christopher S. Butler, María de los Ángeles Gómez González, Susana M. Doval-Suárez, 2005-09-22 This book brings together a collection of articles characterized by two main themes the contrastive study of parallel phenomena in two or more languages and an essentially functional approach in which language is regarded first and foremost as a rich and complex communication system inextricably embedded in sociocultural and psychological contexts of use The majority of the studies reported is empirical in nature many making use of corpora or other textual materials in the language s under investigation The book begins with an introductory section in which the editors provide surveys of the state of the art in both functional and contrastive linguistics The other five sections of the volume are devoted to i a cognitive perspective on form and function ii information structure iii
