Corpus Linguistics for Virtual Workplace Discourse Dawn Knight, Anne O'Keeffe, Christopher Fitzgerald, Justin McNamara, Geraldine Mark, Sandrine Peraldi, Tania Fahey Palma, Fiona Farr, Benjamin Cowan, Svenja Adolphs, 2024-12-19 Corpus Linguistics for Virtual Workplace Discourse provides a thorough and practical step by step guide to constructing and analysing a multi modal corpus of virtual meetings It draws from original data from video recordings of virtual meetings with a variety of participant profiles from various industries alongside examples of images and transcriptions from this data to illustrate key points This cutting edge volume contextualises the field through previous corpus studies of interaction in a workplace context as well as a description of various technology mediated interactions culminating in video mediated interaction before outlining the cross section of these two areas in describing the characteristics of virtual meetings An overview of multi modal corpus analysis provides examples and analysis of virtual meetings from a multi modal perspective demonstrating what is unique about virtual workplace discourse The text concludes by presenting how multi modal corpus analysis can aid understanding and delivery of virtual meetings through suggestions regarding meeting management At various stages throughout the book readers will engage with tasks that promote critical thinking at each phase of background research and data analysis This will ensure that practical learning outcomes are achieved as well as broad insights gained into multi modal corpus analysis of virtual meetings This timely prescient text is essential reading to students and researchers in corpus linguistics and any applied linguistics scholar interested in workplace communication as well as valuable reading for any students or scholars in business communication

Critiquing Generative AI in Africa's Media Ecosystems Lungile A. Tshuma, Trust Matsilele, 2025-11-17 This book takes a critical approach to the rise of Artificial Intelligence AI within the media and communication landscape The book argues that as technology is a social construct reflecting existing power dynamics those in the Global South and in Africa in particular are bound to be marginalised and have their knowledge systems overlooked as the Global North dominates technological developments The birth of AI has ignited debates about its benefits to lower income countries with some highlighting its potential to advance businesses and grow economies However this book argues that AI tools have been produced to serve Western needs and that instead there is a need for countries in Africa to have home grown solutions defined by local values Drawing on case studies and analysis from across the continent the book seeks to caution challenge and proffer solutions to the use and understanding of Generative AI for media and communication in non western societies At a time when generative AI is threatening to shape the future of media and communication around the world this book is a vital and timely contribution to debates within critical data studies and African media studies
