The Camels Must Go Reader Bullard,1961      The Camels Must Go Sir Reader William BULLARD,1961      The camels must go Sir Reader Bullard,1961      The Camels Must Go Reader Bullard (Sir),1961      The Absent-minded Imperialists Bernard Porter,2004 The British empire was a huge enterprise To foreigners it more or less defined Britain in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Its repercussions in the wider world are still with us today It also had a great impact on Britain herself for example on her economy security population and eating habits One might expect this to have been reflected in her society and culture Indeed this has now become the conventional wisdom that Britain was steeped in imperialism domestically which affected or infected almost everything Britons thought felt and did This is the first book to examine this assumption critically against the broader background of contemporary British society Bernard Porter a leading imperial historian argues that the empire had a far lower profile in Britain than it did abroad Many Britons could hardly have been aware of it for most of the nineteenth century and only a small number was in any way committed to it Between these extremes opinions differed widely over what was even meant by the empire This depended largely on class and even when people were aware of the empire it had no appreciable impact on their thinking about anything else Indeed the influence far more often went the other way with perceptions of the empire being affected or distorted by more powerful domestic discourses Although Britain was an imperial nation in this period she was never a genuine imperial society As well as showing how this was possible Porter also discusses the implications of this attitude for Britain and her empire and for the relationship between culture and imperialism more generally bringing his study up to date by including the case of the present day USA      The Shah Abbas Milani,2011-01-04 An Iranian scholar chronicles the life and legacy of the last Shah of Iran including his role in the creation of the modern Islamic republic      Ibn Saud Barbara Bray,Michael Darlow,2012-06-15 Ibn Saud grew to manhood living the harsh traditional life of the desert nomad a life that had changed little since the days of Abraham Equipped with immense physical courage he fought and won often with weapons and tactics not unlike those employed by the ancient Assyrians a series of astonishing military victories over a succession of enemies much more powerful than himself Over the same period he transformed himself from a minor sheikh into a revered king and elder statesman courted by world leaders such as Churchill and Roosevelt A passionate lover of women Ibn Saud took many wives had numerous concubines and fathered almost one hundred children Yet he remained an unswerving and devout Muslim described by one who knew him well at the time of his death in 1953 as probably the greatest Arab since the Prophet Muhammad Saudi Arabia the country Ibn Saud created is a staunch ally of the West but it is also the birthplace of Osama bin Laden and fifteen of the nineteen 9 11 hijackers Saud s kingdom as it now stands has survived the vicissitudes of time and become an invaluable player on the world s political stage      Bread Winner Emma Griffin,2020-04-14 The overlooked story of how ordinary women and their husbands managed financially in the Victorian era and why so many struggled despite increasing national prosperity Nineteenth century Britain saw remarkable economic growth and a rise in real wages But not everyone shared in the nation's wealth Unable to earn a sufficient income themselves working class women were reliant on the breadwinner wage of their husbands When income failed or was denied or squandered by errant men families could be plunged into desperate poverty from which there was no escape Emma Griffin unlocks the homes of Victorian England to examine the lives and finances of the people who lived there Drawing on over 600 working class autobiographies including more than 200 written by women Bread Winner changes our understanding of daily life in Victorian Britain University Library of Autobiography, Including All the Great Autobiographies and the Autobiographical Data Left by the World's Famous Men and Women, 1918 University Library of Autobiography: Autobiography in the middle of the nineteenth century (1820-1870), 1927 An Autobiography Mahatma Gandhi, 1927 An Autobiography Or the Story of My Experiments with Truth Mahatma Gandhi, 1963 T.E. Lawrence: an Arab View Sulaymān Mūsā, 1966 Suleiman Mousa who is the author of several books in Arabic and works in the Press and Information Department in Amman wrote this book after a study of the literature on T E Lawrence had convinced him that although there were books written to praise Lawrence and others written to discredit him all of them exaggerated his part in the Arab Revolt and failed to do justice to the Arabs themselves Using little known Arab sources and with the help of many survivors and observers of the Revolt the author considers again the story as told by Lawrence and his biographers he questions Lawrence's version of many of the incidents in which he took part and examines the sincerity of his belief in Arab independence Dust jacket Raj to the Indian Raj Purshotam D.
