

Video Monitoring Overview

Video monitoring with the Monitoring Station consists of Video Viewers configured in an Application Layout and Video Viewers that can be invoked from the Explorer Bar.

Video in the Application Layout

An Application Layout can contain multiple Video Viewers in one or more Panes.

- Video Camera views show individual cameras.
- Video Server Views can show multiple cameras in a single viewer.
- Video Tours can show a series of single camera or multiple camera views, acting as a virtual guard tour of areas needing surveillance.

A single Pane can contain multiple Viewers (Video and non-video) that can be toggled by clicking the tabs in the Pane.

You can also double-click the title bar of a Pane in the Monitoring Station to open the Pane as a separate floating dialog box. You can then double-click the title bar again to return the floating dialog box to the layout.

Video in the Explorer Bar

The Explorer Bar provides a Video section that lets you view status lists of objects that open in a new floating dialog box. From the Video section of the Explorer Bar, you can open lists of all the Video Servers, Video Cameras, Video Tours, CCTV Switches, CCTV Cameras, and IP Cameras for which you have access Privileges.

You can right-click on Server, Camera, Tour, and Switch objects in a Status List and then select Popup View to open a Viewer window for that Video object. You can then resize or reposition that window on your display.
