Department of State, 1966 Against Hunger, for Development Freedom from Hunger Campaign, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1970 Globalization, Philanthropy, and Civil Society Soma Hewa, Darwin Stapleton, 2005-09-13 Examines complex and diverse links between philanthropy civil society and globalization as a single theme that goes beyond standard economic interpretations Has the potential to generate interest among a wider audience of academics public policy makers and administrators in the field of philanthropy civil society and globalization Campaigns of General Custer in the North-west Judson Elliott Walker, 1881 The Green Revolution in the Global South R. Douglas Hurt, 2020-03-03 A synthesis of the agricultural history of the Green Revolution The Green Revolution was devised to increase agricultural production worldwide particularly in the developing world Agriculturalists employed anhydrous ammonia and other fertilizing agents mechanical tilling hybridized seeds pesticides herbicides and a multitude of other techniques to increase yields and feed a mushrooming human population that would otherwise suffer starvation as the world's food supply dwindled In The Green Revolution in the Global South Science Politics and Unintended Consequences R. Douglas Hurt demonstrates that the Green Revolution did not turn out as neatly as scientists predicted When its methods and products were imported to places like Indonesia and Nigeria or even replicated indigenously the result was a tumultuous impact on a society's functioning A range of factors including cultural practices ethnic and religious barriers cost and availability of new technologies climate rainfall and aridity soil quality the scale of landholdings political policies and opportunism the rise of industrial farms civil unrest indigenous diseases and corruption entered into the Green Revolution calculus producing a series of unintended consequences that varied from place to place As the Green Revolution played out over time these consequences rippled throughout societies affecting environments economies political structures and countless human lives Analyzing change over time almost decade by decade Hurt shows that the Green Revolution was driven by the state as well as science Rather than acknowledge the vast problems with the Green Revolution or explore other models Hurt argues scientists and political leaders doubled down and repeated the same missteps in the name of humanity and food security In tracing the permutations of modern science's impact on international agricultural systems Hurt documents how beyond increasing yields the Green Revolution affected social orders politics and lifestyles in every place its methods were applied usually far more than once Account of Arnold's Campaign Against Quebec John Joseph Henry, 1877 The Campaigns of the 124th Regiment George W.
