Canadas Changing Age Structure Implication For The Future:

Canada's Changing Age Structure Gloria M. Gutman, Gloria Margaret Gutman, 1982 Canada's Aging Population Susan A. McDaniel, 1986 The Safety of Elderly Drivers J. Peter Rothe, 2020-03-12 By the turn of the century the elderly will comprise about 20 percent of the population in North America and 28 percent of those who drive. Place this percentage in high powered automobiles and the need for planning and policy development becomes evident. Most standard research on elderly drivers has not gone beyond gathering data on specific situations or characteristics. This book rises beyond simple statistical presentation. It blends sociological insight with statistical detail to produce an absorbing description of the elderly drivers' daily lives, driving styles, experiences with accident and injury, social relationships and life aspirations. It also describes areas of neglect, imagined and real health problems, driving exposure and traffic violations, accidents and loss of self esteem. It presents in depth accounts of the trauma of loss of license and the importance of the automobile for sustaining mental, physical and social well being. The self imposed or self defined rules elderly drivers use to navigate traffic or compensate for physical frailties are described in depth. The Safety of Elderly Drivers includes penetrating comments from elderly drivers who have been involved in serious accidents and from random elderly drivers speaking for their generation of drivers. Integrating statistical findings based on Motor Vehicle Department accident data and survey data with comprehensive interviews and discussions with elderly drivers, the book provides an empirically grounded in depth view of the elderly driver today. Rothe summarizes theories and models of aging along with past research on elderly drivers projecting what the future may hold. If present trends in medicine, housing, politics, migration and mass transit continue, it closes with a series of recommendations for future traffic planning. This book will be of interest to policymakers concerned with traffic safety as well as social scientists and others interested in gerontological issues.

Implications of the Changing Age Structure of the Canadian Population Lewis Auerbach, Andrea Gerber, 1976 On the Job Craig Heron, Robert H. Storey, 1986 Every day millions of Canadians go out to work. They labour in factories, offices, restaurants and retail stores, on ships and deep in mines. And every day millions of other Canadians, mostly women, begin work in their homes performing the many tasks that ensure the well being of their families and ultimately the reproduction of the paid labour force. Yet for all its undoubted importance, there has been remarkably little systematic research into the past and present dynamics of the world of work in Canada.

Canada's Changing Age Structure Gloria M. Gutman, 1982 Nonsexist Research Methods Margrit Eichler, 2013-10-28 In accessible and jargon free language Margrit Eichler provides a systematic approach to identifying, eliminating and preventing sexist bias in social science research. She begins with a general discussion of the problems and implications of sexism in research and then identifies four primary sources of bias: androcentricity, overgeneralization, gender insensitivity and double standards. Three derivative sources of bias: sex appropriateness, familism and sexual dichotism are also discussed. Each chapter defines a problem and provides illustrative examples drawn from recently published work. In the concluding chapter Eichler outlines a step by step approach to avoiding the introduction of sexist bias at each phase of the research process She also provides concrete suggestions for eliminating bias in titles language research design concepts research methods data interpretation and policy evaluations and recommendations The book includes a Nonsexist Research Checklist that is designed as a handy reference to be used during the research process Nonsexist Research Methods is appropriate to both quantitative and qualitative analysis Written specially with students in mind this book will prove invaluable to researchers and research methods courses in sociology political science economics psychology anthropology and women s studies

Issues in Aging Mark Novak, 2018-02-02 Issues in Aging combines social psychological biological and philosophical perspectives to present a multifaceted picture of aging Novak illustrates both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age This text helps students understand the tremendous variability in aging and introduces them to careers working with older adults This new edition reflects the continued changes in the way we age The fourth edition has been updated to include emerging issues in aging These include the prevalence of HIV AIDs in later life current research on mental potential in old age the creation of age friendly cities and new options for end of life care Each chapter begins with a set of learning objectives to guide students in their reading and concludes with a list of main points questions for discussion or study suggested readings and relevant web sites to consult Each chapter also includes up to date charts and graphs as well as key terms to help students understand the issues presented Break out boxes reveal the human side of aging through the stories of individuals in real life and in the media
