Canadas Crippled Dollar An Analysis Of International Trade And Our Troubled Balance Of Payments:

Canada's Crippled Dollar H. Lukin Robinson, 1980 A comprehensive introduction to Canada's international trade issues in a post war environment Canada's Video Revolution Peter Lyman, Canadian Institute for Economic Policy, 1983 From the back cover While Canadians have been leaders in many aspects of communications technology the content has been mainly foreign So too have the applications of new technology typically been property of alliances of corporations in the U S Europe and Japan As the pace of the globalization of culture quickens Canada's broadcasting recording film and publishing industries will face formidable challenges Communications analyst Peter Lyman describes the impact of the new technologies on Canadian cultural industries and proposes strategies he feels must be accepted to make these industries viable in an ever changing marketplace The World Economy in Crisis Lorie Tarshis, 1984-01-01 Lorie Tarshis held that much of the economic suffering in the 1970s was not necessary that the crisis could have been easily eased had it not been for governments faulty diagnoses and poorly designed prescriptions Faced with increasingly serious energy shortages economic slowdowns rising unemployment and skyrocketing Third World debt Western governments responded with inflation fighting policies left over from the Second World War that served only to exacerbate the situation In this book Tarshis recommended an overall strategy to confront these problems without resorting to the stopgaps then in vogue with government decision makers World Economy in Crisis offers an acute diagnosis of the pervasive malaise facing the world economy in the 1970s and a critical perspective on contemporary official responses to it Planning and the Economy Hugh Thorburn, 1984-01-01 Since World War II the way economic policy has been formed both in Canada and abroad has changed radically This book shows that the course taken in Canada has much to do with the crisis in the Canadian economy in the post war period Thornburn examines the response of other Western nations to the changing economic order of the postwar world and then turns to an analysis of Canadian economic policy making at the federal level and in all ten provinces Thorburn points to the need for a central planning agency to correct the drift in Canada's economic policy First published in 1984 Planning and the Economy is a strongly argued entry into the vital debates over Canadian political and economic policy in the early 1980s

The Drug Industry Myron J. Gordon, David Fowler, 1981-01-01 In this independent study first published in 1981 economists Myron Gordon and David Fowler test the assertions made by both defenders and critics of multinational drug corporations The pharmaceutical business in Canada is a classic example of a foreign dominated manufacturing industry Drug industry practices such as the high cost of drug products aggressive marketing of drugs to doctors inadequate testing of potentially dangerous substances and excessive profits have concerned both media and citizens in Canada The Drug Industry is an analysis of a classic branch plant business in Canada offering recommendations for increased and closely focussed government regulation Marketing Canada's Energy Ian McDougall, 1983-01-01 Written in the early 1980s author I A McDougall shows that as an import dependent country Canada was ill prepared for possible disruptions in its oil supply

McDougall envisioned a future in which superpower rivalry over dwindling world reserves coupled with rationing of supply by OPEC members and volatility in the Persian Gulf would make Canada's dependence on foreign oil increasingly precarious. He asserted that the contemporary Liberal government's National Energy Program was a useful first step in promoting an independent energy strategy. Marketing Canada's Energy is a passionate addition to the lively debate over Canada's independence during the 1980s.

Financing the Future Arthur Donner, 1982-01-01 In this study first published in 1982 Arthur Donner examines capital market issues that have significant economic impact and are affected by public policy. In addition to interest rates inflation energy concern the author also examines the financing of pension funds the state of housing finance and the interaction between inflation and capital markets. Donner finds that at the root of all capital market problems are the same factors high inflation high and volatile interest rates and saving and investment distortions caused by the interaction of inflation and the tax system. Financing the Future is an immediate and detailed analysis of the state of Canadian capital markets in the early 1980s.

Business Cycles in Canada Maurice Lamontagne, 1984 From the back cover Maurice Lamontagne reveals the workings of three types of cycles the short term inventory cycle lasting about forty months the intermediate investment cycle lasting seven to ten years and the long wave which some theorists say last bottomed out in the 1930s. Each cycle has different causes effects and urgent policy requirements yet too often they are overlooked or lumped together. Governments and economists are preoccupied with short term fluctuations that see the economy apparently picking up one year then declining the next while all along the root social and technological causes of the economy's sluggishness aren't addressed. Lamontagne chronicles Canada's attempts to respond to short and medium term business cycles and focuses on the implications of the long wave cycle for Canada. Long waves have been generated by technological innovations that coincided with a hospitable socio-political environment. We are now in a period when the economy built on third wave breakthroughs in transportation communication and electricity in the 1890s is in decline yet powerful vested interests are preventing a full transition to the infant technologies of the 1950s and 1960s computers new energy sources genetic engineering and the space and ocean industries.

The Future of Grain Michele Veeman, Terry Veeman, 1984-01-01 Written in the early 1980s The Future of Grain examines Canada's growing grain exports and the outlook for the industry's future. The authors examine the prospects such as an increase holds for the largely static Canadian industries connected to grain manufacturers of agricultural machinery pesticides and fertilizers processing industries such as feed and flour milling canola crushing and barley malting. And they suggest improvements to every aspect of government involvement from measures to conserve Prairie soil to macroeconomic policy that affects this important sector. The Future of Grain offers a valuable analysis of this important agricultural sector at a vital time in its history.

Canada's Cultural Industries Paul

Audley, 1983 From the back cover Books television records media such as these provide a country with its entertainment information opinion and analysis a major part of its culture But the import of culture from more powerful countries has always meant disadvantages for Canada's cultural industries whose smaller market dictates higher costs As these industries suffer economically so does Canadian culture However by both their buying habits and responses to polls Canadians have shown that they support Canadian content Despite this fact an annual cultural deficit of 750 million and an obvious threat to Canadian autonomy responses from government have been fitful and sometimes even counter productive For both English and French Canada Paul Audley provides a wealth of information on the state of the cultural industries newspapers magazines books recording radio television and film Audley pays particular attention to problems of Canadian content and control and how government could formulate new policies to strengthen these vital industries Macroeconomics David A.
