Canadian Missionaries, Indigenous Peoples Alwyn Austin, Jamie S. Scott, 2005-01-01 Christian missions and missionaries have had a distinctive role in Canada's cultural history. With Canadian Missionaries Indigenous Peoples, Alwyn Austin and Jamie S. Scott have brought together new and established Canadian scholars to examine the encounters between Christian Roman Catholic and Protestant missionaries and the indigenous peoples with whom they worked in nineteenth and twentieth century domestic and overseas missions. This tightly integrated collection is divided into three sections. The first contains essays on missionaries and converts in western Canada and in the Arctic. The essays in the second section investigate various facets of the Canadian missionary presence and its legacy in East Asia, India, and Africa. The third section examines the motives and methods of missionaries as important contributors to Canadian museum holdings of artefacts from Huronia, Kahnawaga, and Alaska, as well as China and the South Pacific. Broadly adopting a postcolonial perspective, Canadian Missionaries Indigenous Peoples contributes greatly to the understanding of missionaries not only as purveyors of western religious values but also as vehicles for cultural exchange between Native and non-Native Canadians, as well as between Canadians and the indigenous peoples of other countries.

Canada and the Third World Sean Mills, Scott Rutherford, 2016-01-01 Canada and the Third World provides a long overdue introduction to Canada's historical relationship with the Third World.

A Cultural Sociology of Anglican Mission and the Indian Residential Schools in Canada Eric Taylor Woods, 2016-07-14 This book focuses on the recurring struggle over the meaning of the Anglican Church's role in the Indian residential schools, a long-running school system designed to assimilate Indigenous children into Euro-Canadian culture in which sexual, psychological, and physical abuse were common. From the end of the nineteenth century until the outset of the twenty-first century, the meaning of the Indian residential schools underwent a protracted transformation. Once a symbol of the Church's sacred mission to Christianize and civilize Indigenous children, they are now associated with colonialism and suffering. In bringing this transformation to light, the book addresses why the Church was so quick to become involved in the Indian residential schools and why acknowledgment of their deleterious impact was so protracted. In doing so, the book adds to our understanding of the sociological process by which perpetrators come to recognize themselves as such.

The Routledge Research Companion to the History of Evangelicalism Andrew Atherstone, David Ceri Jones, 2018-07-11

Evangelicalism, an inter-denominational religious movement that has grown to become one of the most pervasive expressions of world Christianity in the early twenty-first century, had its origins in the religious revivals led by George Whitefield, John Wesley, and Jonathan Edwards in the middle decades of the eighteenth century. With its stress on the Bible, the cross of Christ, conversion, and the urgency of mission, it quickly spread throughout the Atlantic world and then became a global phenomenon. Over the past three decades, evangelicalism has become the focus of considerable historical research. This research companion brings together a team of leading scholars writing broad-ranging chapters on key themes in the history of evangelicalism It provides an authoritative and state of the art review of current scholarship and maps the territory for future research Primary attention is paid to English speaking evangelicalism but the volume is transnational in its scope Arranged thematically chapters assess evangelicalism and the Bible the atonement spirituality revivals and revivalism worldwide mission in the Atlantic North and the Global South eschatology race gender culture and the arts money and business interactions with Roman Catholicism Eastern Christianity and Islam and globalization It demonstrates evangelicalism s multiple and contested identities in different ages and contexts The historical and thematic approach of this research companion makes it an invaluable resource for scholars and students alike worldwide      Heavenly Fatherland Jeremy

Best,2020 Motivated by a theology that declared missionary work was independent of secular colonial pursuits Protestant missionaries from Germany operated in ways that contradict current and prevailing interpretations of nineteenth century missionary work As a result of their travels these missionaries contributed to Germany s colonial culture Because of their theology of Christian universalism they worked against the bigoted racialism and ultra nationalism of secular German empire building Heavenly Fatherland provides a detailed political and cultural analysis of missionaries mission societies mission intellectuals and missionary supporters Combining cases studies from East Africa with studies of the metropole this book demonstrates that missionaries ideas about race and colonialism influenced ordinary Germans experience of globalization and colonialism at the same time that the missionaries shaped colonial governance By bringing together religious and colonial history the book opens new avenues of inquiry into Christian participation in colonialism During the Age of Empire German missionaries promoted an internationalist vision of the modern world that aimed to create a multinational multiracial heavenly Fatherland spread across the globe      Critical Readings in the History of Christian Mission Martha

Frederiks,Dorottya Nagy,2021-06-22 This selection of texts introduces students and researchers to the multi and interdisciplinary field of mission history It appries them with current discussions insights and theories The four parts of this book acquaint the readers with methodological considerations and recurring themes in the academic study of the history of mission Part one revolves around methods part two documents approaches while parts three and four consist of thematic clusters such as mission and language medical mission mission and education women and mission mission and politics and mission and art The text selection represents a wide variety of disciplines authors and backgrounds The texts were chosen because they address the complexities involved in studying the history of Christian mission Critical Readings in the History of Christian Mission is suitable for course work and other educational purposes      China Interrupted Sonya

Grypma,2012-08-15 China Interrupted is the story of the richly interwoven lives of Canadian missionaries and their China born children mishkids whose lives and mission were irreversibly altered by their internment as enemy aliens of Japan from 1941 to 1945 Over three hundred Canadians were among the 13 000 civilians interned by the Japanese in China China Interrupted explores the experiences of a small community of Canadian missionaries who worked in Japanese occupied China and were profoundly affected by Canada's entry into the Pacific War. It critically examines the fading years of the missionary movement beginning with the perspective of Betty Gale and other missionary nurses whose childhood socialization in China, decision to return during wartime, choice to stay in occupied regions against consular advice and response to four years of internment reflect the resilience, fragility and eventual demise of the China missions as a whole. China Interrupted provides insight into the many ways in which health care efforts in wartime China extended out of the tight knit missionary community that had been established there decades earlier. Urging readers past a thesis of missions as a tool of imperialism, it offers a more nuanced way of thinking about the relationships among people, institutions and nations during one of the most important intercultural experiments in Canada's history.

Explorations in the Icy North Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund, 2021-05-11. Science in the Arctic changed dramatically over the course of the nineteenth century when early scattered attempts in the region to gather knowledge about all aspects of the natural world transitioned to a more unified Arctic science under the First International Polar Year in 1882. The IPY brought together researchers from multiple countries with the aim of undertaking systematic and coordinated experiments and observations in the Arctic and Antarctic. Harsh conditions, intense isolation and acute danger inevitably impacted the making and communicating of scientific knowledge. At the same time, changes in ideas about what it meant to be an authoritative observer of natural phenomena were linked to tensions in imperial ambitions, national identities and international collaborations of the IPY. Through a focused study of travel narratives in the British, Danish, Canadian and American contexts, Nanna Katrine Lüders Kaalund uncovers not only the transnational nature of Arctic exploration but also how the publication and reception of literature about it shaped an extreme environment, its explorers and their scientific practices. She reveals how far beyond the metropole in the vast area we understand today as the North American and Greenlandic Arctic, explorations and the narratives that followed ultimately influenced the production of field science in the nineteenth century.

Majority World Theology Gene L. Green, Stephen T. Pardue, K. K. Yeo, 2020-12-01. More Christians live in the Majority World than in Europe and North America. Yet most theological literature does not reflect the rising tide of Christian reflection coming from these regions. Bringing together theological resources from past and present East and West, this work engages conversations with leading global scholars on theology, faith and mission for the enrichment of the entire church.

The Church at Home and Abroad Henry Addison Nelson, Albert B. Robinson, 1894. Great Plains Quarterly, 2006. The Book Review Digest, 2006. International Bibliography of Historical Sciences Massimo Mastrogregori, 2009. Annually published since 1930, the International Bibliography of Historical Sciences (IBOHS) is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times. The IBOHS is thus currently the only continuous bibliography of its kind covering such a broad period of time, spectrum of subjects and geographical range. The works are arranged systematically according to period, region or historical discipline.

and alphabetically according to authors names or in the case of anonymous works by the characteristic main title word The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors      America, History and Life ,2007 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada      Canada's Missionary Congress; Addresses Delivered at the Canadian National Missionary Congress, Held in Toronto, March 31 to April 4, 1909, with Reports of Committees ,1909      Herald of Gospel Liberty Elias Smith,1904      Woman's Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church ,1938      The Mennonite ,1940      The Christian Advocate ,1928      Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation
