Cancer A Comedy:

Cancer: a Comedy Michael Weller, 1971-01-01 Laughing with Cancer Ian Mair, 2017-09-05 Three years after surgery to have my prostate removed my cancer returned requiring eight weeks of daily radiation treatments Humor allowed me to face this journey in a hopeful light hearted way and to ease the fears of those around me I figured life is what you make it so you might as well make it fun One man out of every six will deal with a prostate cancer diagnosis in his lifetime Laughing With Cancer was written to chronicle a very personal journey in a compelling hilarious memoir It is as refreshingly frank and informative as it is hysterical Written from a unique perspective I put the reader in my shoes and invite them to experience the journey with me Laughing With Cancer is a must read for any man facing prostate cancer as well as his family friends and anyone else who wants to be entertained while learning about a timely subject too often couched in strict medical terms I've Got Cancer, What's Your Excuse? Anne Gildea, 2013-09-02 Call it a mid life crisis but you reach a point where nothing makes sense anymore Not the goals you set yourself the years focussed on trying to achieve them what was let go what was gained along the way You look back and think Is that it Then you get sick And everything changes This startlingly honest and often hilarious memoir from one of Ireland's best loved comediennes is told through the lens of cancer treatment and its aftermath From the moment when she heard but didn't necessarily absorb the shocking diagnosis through the months that followed Gildea describes the mixed emotion of the journey at once swept along on its tide and struggling to grapple with its effects Through depression comedy Catholicism chemotherapy the bog emigration sex mastectomy fear and love I've Got Cancer What's Your Excuse takes a refreshingly irreverent look at life the stuff it throws at you and what you do with it as it ultimately asks Did cancer save me No Cure for Cancer Denis Leary, 1992-10-16 An uproarious and lacerating meditation on life and death by celebrated comedian and actor Denis Leary Based on the writer performer's hit Off Broadway show this rapid fire monologue sends up society and its ills disease drugs crime junk culture the recovery movement pious political correctness urban life and above all our fear of mortality with wicked satire and insight High octane comedy terribly angrily funny The New York Times Absolutely brilliant the real cutting edge of American comedy The Boston Globe
