Hahner, 1998-08-01 The nineteenth century was a period of peak popularity for travel to Latin America where a new political independence was accompanied by loosened travel restrictions Such expeditions resulted in numerous travel accounts most by men However because this period was a time of significant change and exploration a small but growing minority of female voyagers also portrayed the people and places that they encountered Women through Women s Eyes draws from ten insightful accounts by female visitors to Latin America in the nineteenth century These firsthand tales bring a number of Latin American women into focus nuns market women plantation workers the wives and daughters of landowners and politicians and even a heroine of the independence movement Questions of family life religion women s labor and education are addressed in addition to the interrelationships of men and women within the structure of Latin American societies Women through Women s Eyes is a perceptive look at Latin American women from various walks of life during this period Within these pages the reader catches lengthy glimpses of the women on both sides of the travel accounts author and subject and thereby may examine them all and their societies close up      Captain Abby and Captain John Robert Peter Tristram Coffin, 1939 The story of the Penells a seafaring family from Maine      The Sea and Nineteenth-Century Anglophone Literary Culture Steve Mentz, Martha Elena Rojas, 2016-11-18 During the nineteenth century British and American naval supremacy spanned the globe The importance of transoceanic shipping and trade to the

European based empire and her rapidly expanding former colony ensured that the ocean became increasingly important to popular literary culture in both nations This collection of ten essays by expert scholars in transatlantic British and American literatures interrogates the diverse meanings the ocean assumed for writers readers and thinkers on both sides of the Atlantic during this period of global exploration and colonial consolidation The book s introduction offers three critical lenses through which to read nineteenth century Anglophone maritime literature wet globalization which returns the ocean to our discourses of the global salt aesthetics which considers how the sea influences artistic culture and aesthetic theory and blue ecocriticism which poses an oceanic challenge to the narrowly terrestrial nature of green ecological criticism The essays employ all three of these lenses to demonstrate the importance of the ocean for the changing shapes of nineteenth century Anglophone culture and literature Examining texts from Moby Dick to the coral flower books of Victorian Australia and from Wordsworth s sea poetry to the Arctic journals of Charles Francis Hall this book shows how important and how varied in meaning the ocean was to nineteenth century Anglophone readers Scholars of nineteenth century globalization the history of aesthetics and the ecological importance of the ocean will find important scholarship in this volume
