Diamond War:

Extractive Economies and Conflicts in the Global South Dr Kenneth Omeje, 2013-03-28 The majority of developing countries in the Global South are evidently rich in natural resources but paradoxically blighted by excruciating poverty and conflicts. This paradox of deprivation and war in the midst of plentiful resources has been the subject of great debate in international political economy in contemporary history. This book contributes to the debate by examining the underlying structures, actors and contexts of rentier politics and how they often produce and aggravate conflicts in the various extractive economies and regions of the Global South. The book critically explores the theories of rentier economies and natural resource conflicts as well as the practical ramifications of rentier politics in the Global South with all their resonance for political economy and security in the Global North.

Diamonds in Peace and War Ingrid J. Tamm, 2002 Diamonds in Peace and War is the latest word on conflict diamonds and their contribution to the wars of middle Africa. The report grew out of a conference sponsored by the World Peace Foundation, the Project on Justice in the Carr Center and the WPF Program on Intrastate Conflict at the Kennedy School of Government in late 2001. Although the conflict diamond problem is but a small part of the much larger world-wide trade in peaceful diamonds, it is the destructive and corrosive part. Tamm places conflict diamonds within this larger context, lays out the technical issues involved and explores all aspects of the Kimberly Process, the unparalleled negotiating effort by industry, NGOs and national governments that produced a standard method of differentiating clean from dirty diamonds. It also helped to produce pending U.S. legislation. Using diamonds to import arms and sponsor war is less likely now that the Kimberly Process has produced a near final agreement. Diamonds in Peace and War is the place to learn all about this remarkably successful initiative of conflict prevention and conflict reduction.

West African Diamonds, 1919-1983 P. A. L. Greenhalgh, 1985 Study of the history of the diamond mining industry and trade in West Africa. Reviews the world diamond industry, examines the role of European foreign enterprise, incl. Land concessions, labour supply, wages, labour relations, profitability and productivity, comments on African indigenization of digging concessions and operations, growth of the African diamond industry and the production factors, discusses the impact of government policies, taxation, public ownership and diamond marketing in Western Europe and within the region. Bibliography, graph, maps, statistical tables.

The Great Reimagining Bree T. Hocking, 2015-02-01 While sectarian violence has greatly diminished on the streets of Belfast and Derry, proxy battles over the right to define Northern Ireland's identity through its new symbolic landscapes continue. Offering a detailed ethnographic account of Northern Ireland's post-conflict visual transformation, this book examines the official effort to produce new civic images against a backdrop of ongoing political and social struggle. Interviews with politicians, policymakers, community leaders, cultural workers and residents shed light on the deeply contested nature of seemingly harmonized urban landscapes in societies undergoing radical structural
