Conversational Routines in English

Karin Aijmer, 2014-09-19

It is surprising how much of everyday conversation consists of repetitive expressions such as thank you sorry would you mind and their many variants. However commonplace they may be they do have important functions in communication. This thorough study draws upon original data from the London Lund Corpus of Spoken English to provide a discursive and pragmatic account of the more common expressions found in conversational routines such as apologising thanking requesting and offering. The routines studied in this book range from conventionalized or idiomatized phrases to those which can be generated by grammar. Examples have been taken from face to face conversations radio discussions and telephone conversations and transcription has been based upon the prosodic system of Crystal 1989. An extensive introduction provides the theory and methodology for the book and discusses the criteria for fixedness grammatical analysis and pragmatic functions of conversational routines which are later applied to the phrases. Following chapters deal specifically with phrases for thanking apologising indirect requests and discourse organising markers for conversational routines on the basis of empirical investigation of the data from the London Lund Corpus of Spoken English.

Learner English on Computer Sylviane Granger, 2014-02-04. The first book of its kind. Learner English on Computer is intended to provide linguists students of linguistics and modern languages and ELT professionals with a highly accessible and comprehensive introduction to the new and rapidly expanding field of corpus based research into learner language. Edited by the founder and co ordinator of the International Corpus of Learner English ICLE the book contains articles on all aspects of corpus compilation design and analysis. The book is divided into three main sections. In Part I the first chapter provides the reader with an overview of the field explaining links with corpus and applied linguistics second language acquisition and ELT. The second chapter reviews the software tools which are currently available for analysing learner language and contains useful examples of how they can be used. Part 2 contains eight case studies in which computer learner corpora are analysed for various lexical discourse and grammatical features. The articles contain a wide range of methodologies with broad general application. The chapters in Part 3 look at how Computer Learner Corpus CLC based studies can help improve pedagogical tools EFL grammars dictionaries writing textbooks and electronic tools. Implications for classroom methodology are also discussed. The comprehensive scope of this volume should be invaluable to applied linguists and corpus linguists as well as to would be learner corpus builders and analysts who wish to discover more about a new exciting and fast growing field of research.
