The Royal Netherlands Navy of World War II Ryan K. Noppen, 2020-08-20 In the late 19th and early 20th century a combination of coastal defence for the homeland and fleet defence for the East Indies became the established naval strategy for the Royal Dutch Navy and set the template for the world wars Battleships were too expensive to build and maintain so after World War I there was significant investment in submarine development and construction A handful of modern light cruisers and a new class of destroyers were also constructed during the interwar years to serve as a small Fleet in Being in the East Indies as well as to support the actions of the navy s submarines The light cruiser HNLMS De Ruyter and the Java class light cruisers were the most powerful units of the new fleet whilst the backbone of the destroyer fleet was the Admiralen class and the Tromp class of destroyer leaders Beginning in December 1941 the Dutch Navy played a very active role in the defence of the East Indies against the Japanese during World War II The Battle of the Java Sea at the end of February 1942 crushed Dutch naval power in the East Indies sinking the cruisers Java and De Ruyter and killing Admiral Karel Doorman However several Dutch surface warships and submarines continued the fight against the Axis powers alongside the Allies until the end of World War II including a pair of British built destroyers Van Galen and Tjerk Hiddes This beautifully illustrated book from a leading scholar on Dutch military history provides a comprehensive guide to the Royal Netherlands Navy of the World War II period complete with detailed cutaways and battleplates of the fleet in action

Stille,2021-03-18 A new illustrated history and analysis of Italy's World War II destroyers a formidable foe for Allied forces attempting to attack the sea lanes between Italy and North Africa The Italian Royal Navy Regia Marina or RM began the Second World War with one of the largest fleets in the world Included in it was a total of 59 fleet destroyers with others added during the war These were a diverse collection of ships dating back to the First World War with large destroyers built to counter ships of similar size introduced in the French Navy the RM's historical enemy and medium sized ships which constituted the bulk of the destroyer force RM destroyers were built for high speed not endurance since they were only expected to operate inside the Mediterranean They were also well armed but lacked radar During the war RM destroyers fought well With the exception of a small force based in Abyssinia which fought a series of battles in the Red Sea against the British RM destroyers were active in the Mediterranean The primary mission of the RM during the war was to keep the supply lines to North Africa open The Italians were largely successful in this effort and destroyers were key RM destroyers were present at every fleet action with the British Mediterranean Fleet The intensity of these actions is reflected by the fact that the RM lost 51 destroyers during the war

US Destroyers 1942-45 Dave McComb,2011-12-20 Few if any 20th century warships were more justly acclaimed than the destroyers of the U S Navy's Fletcher class Admired as they were for their advanced and rakish design it was their record as workhorses of the Pacific War that placed them among the most battle tested and successful fighting ships of all time This title describes the Fletchers and their Allen M Sumner and Gearing class derivatives their machinery armament and construction with a listing of all 343 ships by hull number and builder It features an operational history of the 287 ships commissioned during World War II which traces the evolution of night surface action tactics in the Solomon Islands and the parallel development of the Combat Information Center the drive across the Pacific and liberation of the Philippines with tables showing the rapid introduction of new squadrons and the radar pickets climactic stand against kamikaze aircraft at Okinawa With summaries of losses and decorations and specially commissioned artwork this is a definitive book on the wartime US destroyer classes

British Destroyers 1939-45 Angus Konstam,2017-04-20 The Royal Navy entered World War II with a large but eclectic fleet of destroyers Some of these were veterans of World War I fit only for escort duties Most though had been built during the inter war period and were regarded as both reliable and versatile Danger though lurked across the seas as new destroyers being built in Germany Italy and Japan were larger and better armoured So until the new larger Tribal class destroyers could enter service these vessels would have to hold the line Used mainly to hunt submarines protect convoys from aerial attack and take out other destroyers these ships served across the globe during the war This fully illustrated study is the first in a two part series on the real workhorses of the wartime Royal Navy focusing on how these ageing ships took on the formidable navies of the Axis powers      Blood On The Sea Robert Sinclair Parkin,1996 First time in paperback A unique portrait of American military action through the stories of the seventy one U S destroyers sunk in World War II

German Destroyers 1939-45 Gordon Williamson,2012-04-20 The German destroyer fleet of World War II consisted of nine classes the Diether Von Roeder Class the Leberecht Maas Class and the wartime classes Z23 Z35 Z37 Z40 Z43 Z46 and Z52 These vessels though fewer in number than the British destroyer fleet tended to be much bigger and more powerful than their allied counterparts They served their country well in operations in the Channel North Sea the Far North and in the rescue of civilians from East Prussia during the final days of the war This title describes their design development and operational use from the fjords of Narvik to the final days of the war      Destroyer Actions Harry Plevy,2016-08-04 Utilising eye witness accounts of those who participated in them Destroyer Actions focuses on the human side of naval operations during the first eight months of the Second World War Harry Plevy draws upon primary sources of both naval and civilian provenance many of which are previously unpublished and therefore have never been available to the general reader Extensively researched through comparison of British and German operational logs and including first hand evidence from Polish French and Norwegian sources which reveal the true impact of the conflict at sea upon the lives of the people of all nations caught up in it this book gives a comprehensive picture of destroyer actions at the beginning of the Second World War      Fighting Flotilla Peter C. Smith,2010-07-19 The Laforays were the largest most powerfully armed and successful
