Fossilized Angela V. Carter,2020-10-15 Thanks to increasingly extreme forms of oil extraction Canada s largest oil producing provinces underwent exceptional economic growth from 2005 to 2015 Yet oil s economic miracle obscured its ecological costs Fossilized traces this development trajectory assessing how the governments of Alberta Saskatchewan and Newfoundland and Labrador offered extensive support for oil industry development and exploring the often downplayed environmental effects of extraction Angela Carter investigates overarching institutional trends such as the restructuring of departments that prioritized extraction over environmental protection and identifies regulatory inadequacies related to environmental assessment land use planning and emissions controls Her detailed analysis situates these policy dynamics within the historical and global context of late stage petro capitalism and deepening neoliberalization of environmental policy Fossilized reveals a country out of step with the transition unfolding in response to the climate crisis As the global community moves toward decarbonization Canada s petro provinces are instead doubling down on oil to their ecological and economic peril

Global Perspectives on Oil and Security

Ann Lynn Griffiths,2006 2010 Redaktion Osnabrück,2011-06-16 Venezuela petrolera Sebastián Rafael Navarro Rodríguez,2010 Este trabajo de Sebastián Navarro Rodríguez llega en más de un sentido a llenar parte de ese inmenso vacío en nuestra historia del último siglo Como un naturalista integral este joven historiador acomete un examen de los aspectos geológicos climáticos de desarrollo urbano sociológicos y culturales de la sociedad venezolana de la primera mitad del siglo XX en las zonas del Oriente venezolano que recibieron directamente el influjo del petróleo En especial Navarro Rodríguez describe con admirable lujo de detalles el nacimiento y evolución de poblados como Caripito en los cuales se comenzó a implantar un estilo de vida híbrido venezolano extranjero que inevitablemente influyó en la manera de ser de los venezolanos quienes allí vivieron y en sus costumbres y actitudes sociales todo lo cual sería heredado por sucesivas generaciones con un impacto multiplicador muy importante Los procesos de urbanización llevados a cabo por las empresas estadounidenses y europeas en las áreas petroleras promovieron una verdadera revolución cultural en Venezuela La orientación del poblado o campamento la aparición en el medio rural del agua corriente la escuela la distribución espacial de oficinas y viviendas las casas de los empleados y trabajadores todo ello obedeció en esos poblados a una planificación que era relativamente nueva en la Venezuela de la primera mitad del siglo XX Estos elementos y su significado sociológico son debidamente explicados casi por primera vez en esta extraordinaria obra de Navarro Rodríguez ayudado de mapas y maravillosas fotos Dr Gustavo Coronel Geólogo petrolero Politólogo Investigador Asociado de la Universidad de Harvard Globalization and the World Oil Industry Paul Chastko,2012-04-01 Globalization and the World Oil Industry explains the dramatic transformation to the world petroleum industry in the 20th century from its modest beginnings as a source of illumination to its status today as the driving force behind the world economy The book places the development of the industry in historical perspective examining the people ideas inventions and institutions especially the rise of the multinational oil company MNOG that helped shape this multibillion dollar industry Given the MNOGs access to greater sources of investment capital domination of transportation networks and refining facilities the Seven Sisters established an industry with global reach and influence Subsidiaries established by larger MNOGs facilitated the transfer of technologies and skills and carefully managed the resource But MNOGs saw their power and influence wane with the rise of OPEC and beginning in the 1970s the global oil industry began a dramatic transformation that reshaped industry and presents new challenges in the 21st century With the proliferation of state owned oil companies and the evolution of MNOGs wrought by globalization some analysts question the ability of the modern oil industry to provide enough energy to sustain global economic prosperity given increasing demand from the developing world environmental concerns shortages of skilled and educated workers and heightened competition for investment dollars The Boom Paul Chastko,2025-12-10 When the Calgary Petroleum Product Dingman No 1 Well began operation in Turner Valley on May 14 1914 it unleashed a spectacular frenzy of greed and excess In a fever of free market capitalism over 500 oil companies were created selling fortunes on paper to eager investors But fewer than fifty ever drilled for oil and the Alberta oil industry suddenly began to look like one big swindle. The public and investors demanded answers. Enter George Edward Buck, a charismatic revival preacher and self-proclaimed oil tycoon who made himself and his company the centre of every conversation while he salted his wells and misled investors. Far from the only person to profit from the sensational publicity of the Turner Valley Boom, Buck became the public face of all unscrupulous businessmen and an international scapegoat to preserve the integrity of Alberta oil. The Boom is a history of the Turner Valley era that rescues the miscreants and charlatans from obscurity. Industry historian Paul Chastko returns the larger-than-life promoters, wildcatters, and oil evangelists to the story. He shows the ways that Albertans determined to overcome the obstacles of economics, geography, geology, and the market made a conscious choice to pursue petroleum development and created an oil culture that continues to this day.

Oil Sands Scientist: The Letters of Karl A. Clark, 1920-1949 Mary Clark Sheppard, 1989. This collection of letters from the early 1920s to the late 1940s by Dr. Karl A. Clark chronicles the development of the hot water separation process for producing oil from the Athabasca oil sands in Alberta.
