Developing Cultural Criminology:

Developing Cultural Criminology Cyndi Banks, 2000 What is an appropriate theoretical approach to criminology in the Third World This book makes an argument for cultural specificity and the development of a cultural criminology appropriate to a particular country It contains original criminological studies that apply these notions to Papua New Guinea where law and order problems are rife especially gang violence A major strength of the volume is the inter disciplinary authorship which include Stanley Cohen Marilyn Strathern Cyndi Banks Sinclair Dineen Henry Ivarature Adam Reed Karen Sykes Richard Sikani and Tony Crook These distinguished criminologists and anthropologists contribute studies of crime and social issues in Papua New Guinea based on their original research The book has chapters on The Melanesian conception and meaning of violence Street begging in Port Moresby Drug control Raskol criminal gangs education and the problem of youth The prison experience for a Melanesian Dispute settlement between mining companies and villagers State responses to violence through the criminal justice system and informal approaches to the resolution of crime including the surrender of criminal gangs The collection emphasises that Third World criminology has been marginalised by being subsumed in the Western discourse on crime As Professor Stanley Cohen writes in the preface it is a measure of the continuing

ethnocentricity of western dominated criminology that a volume of this sort under this title is still necessary Cultural Criminology Jeff Ferrell, Keith Hayward, Jock Young, 2015-05-20 Cultural Criminology An Invitation traces the history theory methodology and future direction of cultural criminology Drawing on issues of representation meaning and politics this book walks you through the key areas that make up this fascinating approach to the study of crime The second edition has been fully revised to take account of recent developments in this fast developing field thereby keeping you up to date with the issues facing cultural criminologists today It includes A new chapter on war terrorism and the state New sections on cultural criminology and the politics of gender and green cultural criminology Two new and expanded chapters on research methodology within the field of cultural criminology Further Reading suggestions and a list of related films and documentaries at the end of each chapter enabling you to take your studies beyond the classroom New and updated vignettes examples and visual illustrations throughout Building on the success of the first edition Cultural Criminology An Invitation offers a vibrant and cutting edge introduction to this growing field It will encourage you to adopt a critical and contemporary approach to your studies in criminology First edition 2009 Distinguished Book Award from the American Society of Criminology s Division of International Criminology The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Research Methods David Gadd, Susanne Karstedt, Steven F Messner, 2011-10-19 Conducting research into crime and criminal justice carries unique challenges This Handbook focuses on the application of methods to address the core substantive questions that currently motivate contemporary criminological research It maps a canon of methods that are more elaborated than in most other fields of social science and the intellectual terrain of research problems with which criminologists are routinely confronted

Drawing on exemplary studies chapters in each section illustrate the techniques qualitative and quantitative that are commonly applied in empirical studies as well as the logic of criminological enquiry Organized into five sections each prefaced by an editorial introduction the Handbook covers Crime and Criminals Contextualizing Crimes in Space and Time Networks Communities and Culture Perceptual Dimensions of Crime Criminal Justice Systems Organizations and Institutions Preventing Crime and Improving Justice Edited by leaders in the field of criminological research and with contributions from internationally renowned experts The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Research Methods is set to become the definitive resource for postgraduates researchers and academics in criminology criminal justice policing law and sociology David Gadd is Professor of Criminology at Manchester University School of Law where he is also Director of the Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice Susanne Karstedt has a Chair in Criminology and Criminological Justice at the University of Leeds Steven F Messner is Distinguished Teaching Professor of Sociology University at Albany State University of New York

The Oxford Handbook of Criminology Mike Maguire, Rodney Morgan, Robert Reiner, 2007 teachers and students of criminology and is a sourcebook for professionals Cultural Criminology Jeff Ferrell, Clinton Sanders, 1995 Scholars in criminology and sociology explore the complex relationship between cultural and criminal practices The Illicit and Illegal in Regional and Urban Governance and Development Francesco Chiodelli, Tim Hall, Ray Hudson, 2017-09-27 Discussions of the illicit and the illegal have tended to be somewhat restricted in their disciplinary range to date and have been largely confined to the literatures of anthropology criminology policing and to an extent political science However these debates have impinged little on cognate literatures not least those of urban and regional studies which remain almost entirely undisturbed by such issues This volume aims to open up debates across a range of cognate disciplines The Illicit and Illegal in Regional and Urban Governance and Development is a multidisciplinary volume that aims to open up these debates extending them empirically and questioning the dominant discussions of governance and development that have been rooted largely or entirely in the realm of licit and legal actors The book investigates these issues with reference to a variety of different geographical contexts including but not limited to places traditionally considered to be associated with illegal activities and extensive illicit markets such as some regions in the so called Global South The chapters consider the ways in which these questions deeply affect the daily lives of several cities and regions in some advanced countries Their comparative perspectives will demonstrate that the illicit and the illegal are an underappreciated structural aspect of current urban and regional governance and development across the globe The book is an edited collection of research informed essays which will primarily be of interest to those taking advanced undergraduate and taught postgraduate courses in human geography urban and regional planning and a range of social science disciplines that have an interest in urban and regional issues and issues related to crime and corruption Youth, Crime and Justice Cyndi Banks, 2013-03-12 Youth Crime and Justice takes a critical issues approach to analyzing the current debates and issues in juvenile delinquency It encourages readers to adopt an analytical understanding encompassing not only juvenile crime but also the broader context within which the conditions of juvenile criminality occur. Students are invited to explore the connections between social, political, economic, and cultural conditions and juvenile crime. This book engages with the key topics in the debate about juvenile justice and delinquency: juvenile institutions, delinquency theories, gender and race, youth and moral panic, restorative justice, youth culture, and delinquency. It clearly examines all the important comparative and transnational research studies for each topic. Throughout, appropriate qualitative studies are used to provide context and explain the theories in practice, conveying a powerful sense of the experience of juvenile justice. This accessible and innovative textbook will be an indispensable resource for senior undergraduates and postgraduates in criminology, criminal justice, and sociology.

Advances in Psychology and Law Monica K. Miller, Brian H. Bornstein, 2018-06-11 The latest entry in this noteworthy series continues its focus on psychological issues relating to legal and judicial matters with sound recommendations for situational and system-wide improvement. Salient concerns are described both in areas where their existence is frequently acknowledged (juror impartiality, the juvenile justice system) and where they are rarely considered (Miranda warnings, forensic mental health experts). Authors describe differences between professional and lay concepts of justice, principles and the resulting disconnect between community sentiment and the law. Throughout these chapters, psychological nuances and their legal implications are made clear as they relate to lawyers, jurors, suspects, and victims. Included among the topics: From the headlines to the jury room, an examination of the impact of pretrial publicity on jurors and juries; Victim impact statements in capital sentencing; 25 years post-Payne: Psychology and the Fourth Amendment; Examining the presenting characteristics, short-term effects, and long-term outcomes associated with system-involved youths; Indigenous youth crime: an international perspective; An empirical analysis of law psychology journals: who's publishing and on what? As with the others in the series, this third volume of Advances in Psychology and Law will interest researchers in legal psychology and related disciplines (e.g., criminal justice) as well as practicing attorneys, trial consultants, and clinical psychologists.

Human Trafficking Hysteria Sarah Hupp Williamson, 2025-01-03 Through cultural criminology, this book brings together existing research to provide an overview of historical and modern moral panics related to human trafficking. What do you picture when you hear the words "human trafficking"? Perhaps you imagine someone kidnapped and sold, as shown in films, or worry that sex trafficking increasingly occurs online or in big cities during major events. While sex trafficking does occur, the reality of human trafficking is complex, though this reality is often obscured by the media. The media has played a large role in shaping understanding of this crime, with panics, conspiracies, and misinformation abounding. This book uses cultural criminology to break down historical and modern panics to understand the links between media portrayals of human trafficking, perpetuation of stereotypes, and influences on policy. The text examines the impacts of human trafficking panics perpetuated by media, including understanding the origins of human trafficking in the nineteenth century (White slave panic), the ways that popular media perpetuates stereotypes the reality of trafficking at sporting events and the role of social media in generating misinformation Human Trafficking Hysteria is a valuable resource for criminology and sociology classes as well as special topics classes on sex crimes victimization or the media

Embodying Modernity and Postmodernity Sandra C. Bamford, 2007 This collection of original essays critically examines the relationship between ritual embodiment and social change in the South Pacific Over the past few decades the societies of Melanesia have undergone profound and revolutionary social change Encounters with colonialism postcolonialism and the forces of globalization have put indigenous peoples in touch with processes of state formation late capitalist culture and the emergence of a complex network of transnational identities In addition to shaping the contours of the nation state these developments are having a profound impact on the nature of embodied experience In recent years many Melanesian societies have witnessed the rise of charismatic Christianity changing gender configurations and the growing use of consumerism as a means of defining new social and political hierarchies Embodying Modernity and Post Modernity provides detailed analyses of those social changes that are becoming part of contemporary Melanesia Written by experts with first hand fieldwork experience this volume furnishes novel insights concerning the social implications of modernity and postmodernity More specifically it addresses two interrelated themes how the rise of new social and economic forms has influenced the ways in which Melanesians think about experience and act upon their bodies and the ways in which these new forms of bodily experience contribute to the emergence of new social and cultural identities This book is part of the Ritual Studies Monograph Series edited by Pamela J Stewart and Andrew Strathern Department of Anthropology University of Pittsburgh While this volume will be of particular interest for regional specialists and theorists of the body it also makes important contributions to historical analysis of colonial and post colonial interpretations of modernity and ritual studies The editor also deserves credit for bringing together a cohesive text one in which the articles usefully speak to and complement one another Anthropological Forum This book is a must read for scholars of Melanesia and all scholars of the Anthropology of the Body There is much to be gleaned theoretically from these ethnographically rich essays Oceania

It's a Crime Roslyn Muraskin, 2003 In this very important timely edited volume the authors both experts in the field confront the legal sociological and psychological perspectives involving women and criminal justice Sexual crimes female victims experiences and societal reactions to sexual violence and issues of privacy are covered Attention is also paid to women as offenders and professionals in criminal justice

Security and Development in the Pacific Islands M. Anne Brown, 2007 Reflecting a growing awareness of the need to integrate security and development agendas in the field of conflict management the authors of this original volume focus on the case of the Pacific Islands In the process they also reveal the sociopolitical diversity cultural richness and social resilience of a little known region Their work not only offers insight into the societies discussed but also speaks to the realities of political community and state building efforts throughout the developing world M Anne Brown is research fellow at the Australian Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies at

Perceptions of Developing Cultural Awareness of First-level High School Arabic Language Learners Nabila Hammami,Ashraf Esmail,2013-12-06 This book analyzes how Arabic teachers develop the cultural awareness of their high school students Featuring face to face conversations with educators about integrating Arabic culture into the language classroom this study highlights the complexities that characterize Arabic cultural awareness in a post 9 11 world This book proves that increasing cultural awareness in the classroom facilitates the Arab language learning process

Anthropological Knowledge, Secrecy and Bolivip, Papua New Guinea Tony Crook,2007-09-06 The Min peoples of Papua New Guinea are renowned for their secret male initiation rituals and have proven to be one of the most enigmatic cultures in anthropological experience This study analyses the Min problem and argues that the root of this long standing interpretative impasse has been in Anthropology s view of secrecy and knowledge Because Barth s pioneering work in this small corner of Melanesia still exerts an important influence on the discipline s contemporary view of knowledge the implications of this critique go far beyond a little known problem and raise fundamental questions about the nature of anthropological knowledge itself In Bolivip knowledge making is perceived as exchanging skin and bodily resources with others and is withheld until a person is capable of bearing it The argument uses these understandings to consider our own assumptions and works through alternating chapters An imagistic ethnography of Bolivip with vivid descriptions of life in the rainforest supported by high quality illustrations describes how arboreal and horticultural metaphors motivate the growth of persons and plants These chapters alternate with ethnographies of anthropological knowledge proposing new readings of Melanesianist texts by Mead Bateson and Fortune Weiner and Strathern and Barth Having suggested that the root of the Min problem also underpins a wider impasse in anthropological knowledge the study concludes with a new analytical figure the textual person that suggests a more promising future for anthropological knowledge Global Issues, Women and

Justice Sharon Pickering, Caroline Lambert, 2004 Global Issues Women and Justice explores the ways women seek justice through the nation state global process and international criminal justice mechanisms It draws on a diversity of academic and advocate voices in examining how women have accessed justice under conditions of globalization militarization and colonization Global Issues Women and Justice will appeal to academics and activists as a valuable resource for research As well it provides numerous case studies of the ways women have mobilized to achieve justice which will be useful both in the classroom and in campaigning Oceania Alfred Reginald Radcliffe-Brown, Raymond Firth, Adolphus Peter Elkin, 2006

Intervention and State-Building in the Pacific Greg Fry, Tarcisius Tara Kabutaulaka, 2008-10-15 Intervention and State Building in the Pacific explores state building intervention in weak war torn or failing states through a critical examination of a new model that has recently emerged in relation to the Pacific arc of crisis Initiated by the Australian Government in 2003 this cooperative intervention doctrine built on declared principles of partnership and respect for sovereignty seems to offer a legitimate way to engage in state building intervention Drawing on a group of distinguished Pacific specialists this book mounts a critique of these claims showing how international legitimacy does not automatically translate into political legitimacy among those in the affected societies and how the attempt to legitimize the intervention internationally may actually work against such legitimacy in the recipient state Criminal Justice Ethics Cyndi Banks, 2004-03-19 This book is an overview of the need for and use of ethical behaviour by all players in the criminal justice system The book is organized in two Parts The first Part will cover ethical issues and dilemmas in the criminal justice system and the second Part will focus on the major philosophical theories of ethics Highly illustrative case studies are used throughout the book to demonstrate the ethical issues facing criminal justice professionals today in applied terms The future development of public policy related to the criminal justice system is also considered
