Nursing Knowledge Development and Clinical Practice Callista Roy, 2006-10-24 How does nursing knowledge develop and how do we incorporate this knowledge into the practice of nursing? Is it possible for nursing theory to address the needs of clinical practice? These key questions in the field of nursing are explored in this groundbreaking work. Based on their five year experience as co chairs of the New England Knowledge Conferences and the contributions of nurse clinicians and academics the book addresses issues critical to improving the quality and delivery of health care. Concentrating on four major themes the current state of nursing knowledge the philosophy of nursing knowledge the integration of nursing knowledge with practice and examples of the impact on health care delivery when nursing knowledge is applied. Nursing Knowledge Development and Clinical Practice gives concrete examples of how nursing knowledge can improve nursing practice and overall health care delivery both today and in the future.

Research Into Practice Patrick Crookes, Sue Davies, 2004 Traditional research textbooks have used the format of the research process which makes research seem even more difficult and remote. This book is different. Because the purpose of research appreciation is to enable practitioners to use research to develop and improve practice it focuses instead on the skills of research appreciation and application which are distinct from the skills necessary to undertake research. It prepares you to access critically evaluate understand and use research based literature within the multi disciplinary context of today's health services. It emphasises the range of sources of knowledge which inform nursing practice contemporary research and the context in which health care research and development takes place. critical evaluation of research reports and research based literature examining the implication of project design and conduct and the range of skills needed for the application of research findings and innovation within practice.
