Developing Subject Knowledge In Design And Technology Systems And Control:

Learning to Teach Design and Technology in the Secondary School Gwyneth Owen-Jackson, 2013-01-11 Design and technology is a subject that interests and excites most young people. It requires them to work both practically and theoretically to investigate and research, design, plan, make and evaluate. It encourages creativity, decision making and problem solving as pupils get to grips with real needs and real products. Design and technology covers work with electronics, food, materials such as wood, metal, plastics and textiles and requires the development of graphical skills, practical skills and theoretical knowledge and understanding. Learning to Teach Design and Technology in the Secondary School second edition aims to help student teachers develop their subject knowledge and professional knowledge and skills. It looks at the theory underpinning important issues and links this to practice in the classroom. Fully updated to take account of changes in the curriculum, there are new chapters on teaching graphics, 14-19 vocational qualifications and cross-curricular links to literacy, numeracy, citizenship and sustainability. There are also chapters on design and technology in the school curriculum, developing areas of subject knowledge, the importance of health and safety, the use of ICT in the teaching of design and technology, planning lessons, managing the classroom, assessment issues, the integration of citizenship and sustainability into design and technology, your own professional development. Bringing together insights from current educational theory and the best contemporary classroom teaching and learning, this book will prove an invaluable resource in enhancing the quality of initial school experience for the student teacher.

Learning to Teach Design and Technology in the Secondary School Alison Hardy, 2020-10-01 Learning to Teach Design and Technology in the Secondary School is a core text for all those training to teach design and technology in the secondary school. It helps you develop subject knowledge, acquire a deeper understanding of the role, purpose and potential of design and technology within the secondary curriculum and provides the practical skills needed to plan, teach and evaluate stimulating and creative lessons. This fully updated fourth edition includes information on all areas of design and technology and on new subject requirements relating to exam qualifications. It includes three new chapters on the role of critiquing in design and technology education, transitions after secondary design and technology and using and producing design and technology education research. Designed to be read as a course or dipped into for support and advice, it covers each area of design and technology: materials, textiles, electronics and food. Integrating new curriculum topics such as emerging technologies into your teaching. Developing areas of subject knowledge. Health and safety. Planning lessons. Organising and managing the classroom. Teaching wider issues through design and technology. Assessment issues. Your own professional development. Bringing together insights from current educational theory and the best contemporary classroom teaching and learning, this book will prove an invaluable resource for students on all training routes as well as their mentors who aspire to become effective, reflective design and technology teachers.
