Development and Administration of Education in Uganda J. C. Ssekamwa, S. M. E. Lugumba, 2001 This second title in the Fountain series in Education Studies assesses the structures role and practices of government administration in the development of education in Uganda from 1900 1970 a period which has seen drastic changes in administrative and school set ups and movement towards an almost unrecognisable present day system Part one presents an overview part two looks at the development of teacher training and examination institutions since 1900 part three analyses structures at the level of government ministries district education and school authorities and student participation in the processes History and Development of Education in Uganda J. C. Ssekamwa, 1997 This study examines educational development and progress during the pre colonial days and how it naturally led to the establishment of Western education in Uganda It also discusses how Ugandans have struggled to use Western education with some readjustments after 1962 to solve their economic political and social problems The desire for western education continues to grow The book looks at the sympathetic response of government and its efforts to formulate policies and theories to fulfill its pledge to provide elementary education for all young people Educational Development and Administration in Uganda, 1900-1970 J. Lugumba, 1973 Ugandan Children's Literature and Its Implications for Cultural and Global Learning in TEFL Stephanie Schaidt, 2018-01-15 The present study adds to TEFL discourse in several ways First of all it contributes to the widening of the canon as it focuses on Ugandan childrens fiction Secondly the research connects to the few empirical studies that exist in the field It provides further implications for cultural and global learning and literary didactics in TEFL derived from insights into the mental processes of a group of Year 9 students in Germany engaging with Ugandan childrens fiction within the scope of an extensive reading project Innovating University Education Ssempebwa, Jude, Neema-Abooki, Peter, 2017-09-26

Makerere University started in 1922 as a humble technical school enrolling 14 day students of Carpentry Building and Mechanics Nine decades later the University has made giant strides enrolling over 35 000 students in over 145 study programmes hosted by nine colleges spread across various campuses As one of the first higher education institutions in East and Central Africa the university has had to contend with a multiplicity of issues including relevance curricula reform community engagement and graduate employability access equity massification and quality assurance national politics regulation institutional autonomy and academic freedom funding and financial management student politics and activism staff unionisation management and brain drain physical resources expansion utilisation and maintenance liberalisation privatisation commercialisation and internationalisation Information and Communication Technology ICT and institutional leadership and integrity Today the University stands out proudly as a hallmark of innovation and excellence in teaching research and community engagement notwithstanding the challenges it has experienced over the years As it celebrates 90 years the higher education scholarly and policy fraternity take the opportunity to honour and continue the University s tradition of scholarship and innovation through contributing ideas for dealing with some of the challenges that the University and similar institutions are contending with Although studies of Makerere University have been included it must be understood that this book is not necessarily about the University Additional studies have been drawn from Botswana Ethiopia Ghana Kenya Malawi Nigeria Tanzania and other institutions in Uganda      Accessions List of the Library of Congress Office, Nairobi, Kenya Library of Congress. Library of Congress Office, Nairobi, Kenya,2002      The Politics of Education in Developing Countries Samuel Hickey,Naomi Hossain,2019 This book focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries It deploys a new conceptual framework to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes

A History of Education in East Africa J. C. Ssekamwa,S. M. E. Lugumba,2001 Differing approaches have been used to establish formal education in East Africa This book traces developments from pre colonial indigenous systems to the pioneering work of missionaries and education during the colonial and post colonial periods The work is organised by country parts one to four systematically look at pre independence education in Kenya Uganda Tanganyika and Zanzibar part five gives a comparative analysis of education in the region since independence The authors academics at Makerere University argue that East African educational policies have brought about significant progress within the limits of resources The new challenge is what to do about the number of unemployed school leavers and graduates The authors refute the tendency to view the educated as victims of their own success and a potential social nuisance and instead argue they are a resource crucial to national development processes      National Bibliography of Uganda ,2009      Political Science in Africa ,2023-12-28 Bringing together African and international scholars this book gives an account of the present state of the discipline of political science in Africa generating insights into its present and future trajectories and assessing the freedom with which it is practiced Tackling subjects including the decolonization of the discipline political scientists as public intellectuals and the teaching of political science this diverse range of perspectives paints a detailed picture of the impact and relevance of the political science discipline on the continent during the struggles for democratization and the influence it continues to exert today      Giving Space to African Voices Zehlia Babaci-Wilhite,2014-08-07 This book sets out to bring voices of the South to the debate on localization of education and makes the case that it should be considered a right in education Despite all the scientifically based evidence on the improved quality of education through the use of a local language and local knowledge English as a language of instruction and Western knowledge based curriculum continue to be used at all educational levels in many developing nations This means that in many African countries the goal of rights to education is becoming increasingly remote let alone that of rights in education With this understanding and with the awareness of the education challenges of millions of children throughout Africa the authors argue that local curriculum through local languages needs to be valued and to be preserved and that children need to be prepared for the world in a language that promotes understanding The authors make a clear case that policy makers are in a position to work towards a quality education for all as part of a more comprehensive right based approach We owe it to the children of the South to offer the best quality education possible in order to achieve social justice      African Books in Print ,1978      The Uganda
