the environment for a developmental approach in social work How may a comparative understanding of social welfare practices programs and policies enhance social development in social work In what ways does social development contribute to international and domestic social work What skills knowledge and theory do social workers need to practise in this field Arguing that social development should be at the centre of contemporary social work practice and theory this book is ideal for social work students and academics with an interest in social development international social work social justice social policy and community social work

Indian Books in Print, 2002 Historical Abstracts Eric H. Boehm, 1994 Sri Lankan Society in an Era of Globalization S. H. Hasbullah, Barrie M. Morrison, 2004-08-30 Against the backdrop of social economic and political crisis in Sri Lanka today this volume investigates the possibilities of building a new Sri Lankan model of organizing society The book is divided into four parts Part One looks at societal reorganization Part Two focuses on the rift generated by ethnicity while the third part draws lessons from the struggle of NGOs and other groups to build a better society in Sri Lanka Finally Part Four highlights the larger problems faced by the state Linking the changes in individual and family experiences to political economic and societal changes the book calls for the need for non violent participatory and collective action frameworks to address the problems in this troubled society

Berelson on Population John A. Ross, W. Parker Mauldin, 2012-12-06 Bernard Barney Berelson had a major influence in the application of social science concepts and methods to population policy during the period from 1962 to 1980 This was the period when concern with population problems spread from a relatively small group of scholars and population activists to a much larger diverse international group of political and intellectual leaders and to the general public as well There was an exponential growth in the number of scholars and service personnel in various population and family specialities in this period Barney came into the field with his appointment as Director of the Communication Research Program of The Population Council in 1962 He had no previous training or experience in demography Frank Notestein President of The Population Council at the time had the wisdom to appreciate the value and relevance of Barney's impressive background in communication research and other social science areas as well as his creative mind and leadership qualities His influence on the Council's rapidly expanding program was so immediate and impressive that within a year he was named Vice President When Frank Notestein retired in 1968 Barney became President a post he held for 6 very productive years
