Botanophilia in Eighteenth-Century France R.L. Williams, 2013-03-09 The book describes the innovations that enabled botany in the Eighteenth century to emerge as an independent science independent from medicine and herbalism This encompassed the development of a reliable system for plant classification and the invention of a nomenclature that could be universally applied and understood The key that enabled Linnaeus to devise his classification system was the discovery of the sexuality of plants The book which is intended for the educated general reader proceeds to illustrate how many aspects of French life were permeated by this revolution in botany between about 1760 to 1815 a botanophilia sometimes inflated into botanomania The reader should emerge with a clearer understanding of what the Enlightenment actually was in contrast to some popular second hand ideas today The History of Natural History Gavin D.
