Homesick Brendan O'Brien,2023-09-19 Nobody who sits in traffic on Sedona Arizona s main stretch or stands shoulder to shoulder in its many souvenir shops would call it a ghost town Neither would anyone renting a room for 2 000 a month or buying a house for a half million dollars And yet the people who built this small town and made it a community are being pushed further and further out Their home is being sold out from under their feet In studying the impact of short term rentals Brendan O'Brien saw something similar happening in places ranging from Bend Oregon to Bar Harbor Maine But it isn t just short term rentals and it s not just tourism towns Neighborhoods in Austin and Atlanta have become rows of investment properties Longtime residents in Spokane and Boston have been replaced by new high salaried remote workers Across the country a level of unaffordable housing that once seemed unique to global cities like New York and San Francisco has become the norm with nearly a third of all US households considered housing cost burdened This situation has been abetted by the direct actions of developers politicians and existing homeowners who have sought to drive up the cost of housing But it s mostly happened due to a society wide refusal to see housing as anything more than real estate another product available to the highest bidder This trend of putting local housing on a global market has worsened in recent years but is nothing new Housing in the United States has always been marred by racial and income inequality that mocks the country s highest ideals Deeply researched and deeply felt Homesick argues that we can be so much better And we can start where we live
