Creating Communities of Practice Oswald Jones, PingPing Meckel, David Taylor, 2021-02-01 This book introduces concepts of business incubation and suggests a learning process This process begins with prior knowledge at the opportunity identification phase progresses through the acquisition of new skills and knowledge necessary to develop an opportunity and concludes with a transformation phase where new knowledge is acted upon The book draws on extensive qualitative data and documentary evidence from a range of stakeholders associated with a University Business Incubator known as Innospace The process of opportunity development within the business incubator is explored by combining experiential and social learning theories as heuristic tools Presented implications for policy makers and incubator managers are that attention and scarce resources should be focused on providing relevant information and encouraging an atmosphere of learning and mutual support Recruitment practices should be revised to include a more holistic appreciation of potential incubatees contribution to the Business Incubation learning community as well as an assessment of their business plans For policy makers the book suggests that successful business incubators do not necessarily require a large financial investment in state of the art premises and technology Appropriate management training together with carefully selected incubatees can create an effective learning community where opportunities are developed and transformed into enterprises and individuals into entrepreneurs American Teacher ,1899 Normal Instructor and Teachers World ,1924 New York Magazine ,1993-04-26 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
