Remotely? Natalia Emanuel, Emma Harrington, 2023 How does remote work affect productivity and how productive are workers who choose remote jobs We estimate both effects in a U S Fortune 500 firm s call centers that employed both remote and on site workers in the same jobs Prior to COVID 19 remote workers answered 12 percent fewer calls per hour than on site workers When the call centers closed due to COVID 19 the productivity of formerly on site workers declined by 4 percent relative to already remote workers indicating that a third of the initial gap was due to a negative treatment effect of remote work Yet an 8 percent productivity gap persisted indicating that the majority of the productivity gap was due to negative worker selection into remote work Difference in differences designs also indicate that remote work degraded call quality particularly for inexperienced workers and reduced workers promotion rates In a model of the market provision of remote work we find that firms were in a prisoner s dilemma all firms would have gained from offering comparable remote and on site jobs but any individual firm was loathe to attract less productive workers
