Cultural and Social Diversity and the Transition from Education to Work Guy Tchibozo, 2012-09-28 This edited volume provides multidisciplinary and international insights into the policy managerial and educational aspects of diverse students' transitions from education to employment. As employers require increasing global competence on the part of those leaving education, this research asks whether increasing multiculturalism in developed societies often seen as a challenge to their cohesion is in fact a potential advantage in an evolving employment sector. This is a vital and under-researched field and this new publication in Springer's Technical and Vocational Education and Training series provides analysis both of theory and empirical data submitted by researchers from nine nations including the USA, Oman, Malaysia and countries in the European Union. The papers trace the origins of business demand for diversity in their workforce's skill set including national, local and institutional contexts. They also consider how social demographic, cultural, religious and linguistic diversity inform the attitudes of those seeking work and those seeking workers. With clear suggestions for future research, this work on a topic of rising profile will be read with interest by educators, policy makers, employers and careers advisors.

The Economics of Immigration and Social Diversity Solomon W. Polachek, Carmel Chiswick, Hillel Rapoport, 2006-01-05 Part of The Research in Labor Economics series, this volume is a collection of papers dedicated to the memory of the late Tikva Lecker. Professor Lecker's many interests included topics in labor economics, women and the economy, the economics of Judaism, the economics of migration and the economic experience of immigrants and their descendants.

Readings for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams, 2000 These essays include writings from Cornel West, Michael Omi, Audre Lorde, Gloria Anzaldúa and Michelle Fine. The essays address the multiplicity and scope of oppressions ranging from ableism to racism and other less well-known social aberrations.

Development and Social Diversity, 1996 In this collection Naila Kabeer examines the meaning of gender relations in the contexts of development practice and of development institutions, a theme taken up by Lewis B. Dzimhiri in relation to refugee programmes and by Yezichalem Kassa and Feleke Tadele in diagnosing the needs of rural communities. Mark Gorman focuses on the needs of elderly people while Tom and Francesca Scanlon and Maria Luiza Nobre Lamarao describe the challenges of working with street children and adolescents. Shubi L. Ishemo argues against approaches to development and relief that are not culturally familiar to the people affected.

Encyclopedia of Diversity and Social Justice Sherwood Thompson, 2014-12-18 The Encyclopedia of Diversity and Social Justice contains over 300 entries alphabetically arranged for straightforward and convenient use by scholars and general readers alike. This reference is a comprehensive and systematic collection of designated entries that describe in detail important diversity and social justice themes. Thompson, assisted by a network of contributors and consultants, provides a centralized source and convenient way to discover the modern meaning, richness and significance of diversity and social justice language while offering a balanced viewpoint This book reveals the unique nature of the language of diversity and social justice and makes the connection between how this language influences negatively and positively institutions and society The terms have been carefully chosen in order to present the common usage of words and themes that dominate our daily conversations about these topics Entries range from original research to synopses of existing scholarship These discussions provide alternative views to popular doctrines and philosophical truths and include many of the most popular terms used in current conversations on the topic from ageism to xenophobia This reference covers cultural social and political vernacular to offer an historical perspective as well With contributions from experts in various fields the entries consist of topics that represent a wider context among a diverse community of people from every walk of life

Empowering Teachers Across Europe to Deal with Social, Emotional and Diversity-Related Challenges Ana Kozina, 2024-02-20 The increase in reported levels of stress and burnout in teachers across Europe highlights the importance of teachers social and emotional competencies and diversity awareness SEDA Since teaching is an extremely social and emotional process where diversity if recognised is embraced at every step we believe that supporting teachers to develop SEDA competencies is the key to shaping not only the positive relationships of living and learning together in classrooms but also in living and learning together in society Once SEDA competencies are supported a positive shift can occur at the level of individual teacher classroom school and society level The book is our way of experimentally demonstrating how teachers SEDA can be supported across Europe Volume I and how policy can support these processes Volume II Volume I focuses on the innovative conceptual overlap of social and emotional competencies and diversity awareness and experimentally test it across European countries with an emphasis on conceptualisation implementation and evaluation processes Economic Development and Social Diversity John W.
