Executive Education after the Pandemic Santiago Iñiguez, Peter Lorange, 2021-11-29 Business education and executive development has been one of the most fascinating industries in the world and the fastest growing segment of higher education over the past decades Today it is experiencing change on a scale unprecedented since the foundation of the first business schools in the early 20th Century both due to changes in the corporate environment and also due to the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic across all industries In this context how do you create world class educational and training institutions that can cope with those challenges and be rigorous vocationally relevant and suited to the corporate growing needs in this new fluid world And how do you combine the very best of traditional academic values with new learning technologies to create an educational model that is fit to compete in the global economy threatened today by populism nationalism and economic turmoil Yet as daunting as it is some institutions have already made significant progress in the journey In this book Santiago Iñiguez de Onzo o President of IE

University and Peter Lorange former President of IMD bring together contributions from leading figures from some of the world's major universities. They share their experiences in addressing some of the challenges that the industry faces today such as diversity and inclusion, employability, the role of AI and the advent of innovative new platforms. Packed with case studies of successful initiatives in business education and executive training, this is a truly visionary book. Authors anticipate future trends and share their in-depth knowledge of what it takes to build world-class educational providers and their vision of higher education in the future.

The Theological and Ecological Vision of Laudato Si', 2017-07-27 This volume provides a comprehensive introduction to the spiritual, moral, and practical themes of Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si'. Leading theologians, ethicists, scientists, and economists provide accessible overviews of the encyclical's major teachings, the science it engages, and the policies required to address the climate crisis. Chapters on the encyclical's theological and moral teachings situate them within the Christian tradition and papal teaching. Science and policy chapters engaging the encyclical and provide introductions to the Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change. The book provides a guide for those wishing to explore the issues raised by Laudato Si' but who lack the specialist knowledge required to know where to begin. Aimed at an undergraduate audience, this book provides a reliable introduction to the major themes of Laudato Si' such as a theology of Creation that embraces the insights of contemporary science, a renewed understanding of the human person in relationship to the rest of creation, a spiritual vision of love and responsibility for all creation, the necessary connection between Christian solidarity with the poor and concern for the environment, an introduction to the social encyclical tradition from which Laudato Si' both draws and develops. Independent and Weekly Review, 1884

Webster's New International Dictionary of the English Language, Based on the International Dictionary 1890 and 1900 William Torrey Harris, Frederic Sturges Allen, 1911 Choice, 2000 New International Dictionary, 1920 Beyond Earth Bob Krone, 2006 This is a critical time for the space program and for all of us. Even the significant steps that we have taken since the dawn of the space age in 1957, including orbital flight, the Moon landings, and orbiting space stations, will in retrospect seem to be tiny steps compared to what lies ahead. Migrating into space will challenge us beyond anything we have previously accomplished, and we are destined to face adventures that are both fantastically breathtaking and supremely dangerous. Beyond Earth is for everyone interested in humankind's next great adventure: the human settlement of the Solar System. A unique collection of world-class scholars, scientists, engineers, managers, astronauts, artists, authors, and professors examine the key questions of our unique circumstance at the dawn of a new era in space exploration and development: Why does space matter to us? What can we use it for? How can we get there efficiently? What will ordinary life be like in space? What will our homes be like on the Moon, on Mars, in orbit? Will we play? Will we love? The book does not stop with questions. It goes beyond the dramatic, the superficial, and the overly technical to the prescriptive, literally laying the brick and mortar for our future space-faring civilisation. Contributing authors come from both hard and soft sciences, include education and the arts.

and ask children who will be the future space dwellers for their visions They document needed research There are three underlying assumptions driving this book First that the human urge for flight exploration and survival plus its curiosity about the universe are deeply embedded in our genes and in our minds Second that even if these urges were ignored the continual improvement of the quality of life for the human race on earth and perhaps even its ultimate survival hinge on the successes of human exploration and habitation of space and Third that our generation can use the opportunity presented by outwards expansion to design a rewarding and exciting future of collaboration to capitalise on the lessons learned from human history on Earth
