This book re-examines the processes, practices, and mechanisms of innovation from an anthropological perspective, offering a theory of innovation as a dynamic multidimensional system. It uses methods and stories across a broad arc of time, place, social, and cultural context and subject matter. The chapters explore the intersection of virtual, local, and global dynamics and deepen our understanding of aspects and dimensions of innovation that challenge common perceptions, particularly in business and organizational environments. The approach aims to situate innovation in an integrated view of human and non-human ecologies and to create common ground for a new form of research and practice. Global Business Yongsun Paik, Dong Chen, William Newbury, Dan Prud'homme, 2025-09-18 This textbook is designed to help students recognize and analyze key issues in global business by bridging theory with real-world applications. Since the first edition was published in 2017, the global business landscape has undergone profound transformations, reshaping how companies operate, compete, and innovate. This new edition incorporates critical developments in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic to provide leaders with a comprehensive understanding of today's global business environment. New and updated case studies illustrate the magnitude and complexity of global business, highlighting the roles of various stakeholders. In addition to insights on emerging markets, this edition sheds new light on reglobalization, economic nationalism, and geopolitical tensions, technological innovation, and digital transformation, and sustainability, enabling readers to stay informed about ever-evolving trends.
