Earth Day and the Environmental Movement Christy Peterson,2020-03-03 On April 22 1970 an estimated twenty million people held in a teach in to show their support for environmental protections This new celebration Earth Day brought together previously fragmented issues under the same banner It was the largest nationwide event ever and lawmakers took notice But one day didn t change everything Fifty years after the first Earth Day climate change remains a dire concern The divide between political parties continues to widen and environmental policy has become an increasingly partisan issue The spread of disinformation has also made climate change a debatable idea rather than scientific fact A new generation of advocates continue the fight to make environmental policy a top priority for the United States and for nations around the globe Our goal is an environment of decency quality and mutual respect for all human beings and all other living creatures Our goal is a decent environment in its broadest deepest sense Gaylord Nelson Earth Day founder T he potential consequences are certainly major in their impact on mankind Now is the time The research is clear It is up to us now to summon the political will Robert Walker US Representative from Pennsylvania There s always a perception that business and industry and conservation groups don t agree on anything W e can come together to demonstrate that we might be looking at it from different sides but the outcome is the same Doug Miell consultant Georgia Chamber of Commerce Good Intentions Are Not Enough: Why We Fail At Helping Others Robin Boon Peng Low,2016-10-18 Disaster strikes transforming cities and towns into graveyards and wastelands in a matter of minutes But help is on its way news channels and social media relay the information to all corners of the globe in real time mobilising hundreds of people and organisations to aid Yet with standard relief packages regardless of the location and a lack of effort taken to match volunteers skills with tasks just how effective are we at helping others Many people want to do good but they like to do it at their convenience These attempts at helping often fail and the blame invariably falls on the disaster victims rather than looking at the suitability of aid provided Such help offered without a thorough understanding of the context or the impact of actions can create situations that leave the victims worse off than before So how can we create real sustainable impact Most communities have a lot of unused human capacity When offering help many aid providers fail to engage the local communities thus excluding a critical group of people with the knowledge of local ways and needs This book elaborates on a simple principle essential to effective aid Never Help Engage Enable Empower and Connect It is important that we fully understand the problem before we try to solve it and who better to help us with solutions than the local community Digital Media and Democracy Megan Boler,2008 The contributors of this text discuss broad questions of media and politics offer nuanced analyses of change in journalism and undertake detailed examinations of the use of web based media in shaping political and social movements The chapters include not only essays but also interviews with journalists and media activists Time Briton Hadden, Henry R.
