Notion of Crisis in Education Michael Thomas Smith, 2026-01-27 This book explores the narrative of education being in a state of perpetual crisis and the motivations behind the historical and contemporary tendency to exploit the same. Written as a call for greater media literacy, the book recognizes how and when solutions to the oft acknowledged educational crises fail to address root causes which ends up only maintaining the status quo. The chapters of the book examine how the notion of education being in a perpetual state of crisis is often underpinned by a lack of funding, cherry picking of data, ideological imperatives, the fashioning of public opinion as amorphous or simple incompetence. Offering real world solutions using international examples from Japan, India, Sweden, Russia, South Korea and more, explained through robust philosophical conceptions, the author advocates for skepticism and epistemic humility as a key component in education. The book ultimately calls for people to reclaim the agency they have collectively surrendered in face of these crises and emphasizes on forging a new path that prioritizes forward thinking movements. This book will be of value to academics, postgraduates and scholars of education interested in a solution centric reorientation of the ongoing narrative and notions of education.
