professional journalists as well as of key interest to digital media practitioners As Public as Possible David I. Backer, 2015-12-02 A witty and provocative treatise on the financial policies we'll need to make our public schools work for all children From the anti CRT panic to efforts to divert tax dollars to charter schools the right wing attack on education has cut deep In response millions of Americans have rallied to defend their cherished public schools But this incisive book asks whether choosing between our embattled status quo and the stingy privatized vision of the right is the only path forward In As Public as Possible education expert David I Backer argues for going on the offensive by radically expanding the very notion of the public in our public schools Helping us to imagine a more just and equitable future As Public as Possible proposes a concrete set of financial policies aimed at providing a high quality and truly public education for all Americans regardless of wealth and race With witty and provocative prose Backer shows how we can decouple school funding from property tax revenue evening out inequalities across districts by distributing resources according to need He argues for direct federal grants instead of the predations of municipal debt markets And he offers eye opening examples spanning the past and present from the former Yugoslavia to contemporary Philadelphia which help us to imagine a radically different way of financing the education of all of our children Discourse 2.0 Deborah Tannen, Anna Marie Trester, 2013-03-12 Our everyday lives are increasingly being lived through electronic media which are changing our interactions and our communications in ways that we are only beginning to understand In Discourse 2.0 Language and New Media editors Deborah Tannen and Anna Marie Trester team up with top scholars in the field to shed light on the ways language is being used in and shaped by these new media contexts Topics explored include how Web 2.0 can be conceptualized and theorized the role of English on the worldwide web how use of social media such as Facebook and texting shape communication with family and friends electronic discourse and assessment in educational and other settings multimodality and the participatory spectacle in Web 2.0 asynchronicity and turn taking ways that we engage with technology including reading on screen and on paper and how all of these processes interplay with meaning making Students professionals and individuals will discover that Discourse 2.0 offers a rich source of insight into these new forms of discourse that are pervasive in our lives Wired TV Denise Mann, 2014-02-11 This collection looks at the post network television industry's heady experiments with new forms of interactive storytelling or wired TV that took place from 2005 to 2010 as the networks responded to the introduction of broadband into the majority of homes and the proliferation of popular participatory Web 2.0 companies like Facebook YouTube and Twitter Contributors address a wide range of issues from the networks' sporadic efforts to engage fans using transmedia storytelling to the production inefficiencies that continue to dog network television to the impact of multimedia convergence and multinational corporate conglomeration on entrepreneurial creativity With essays from such top scholars as Henry Jenkins John T Caldwell and Jonathan Gray and from new and exciting voices emerging in this field Wired TV elucidates the myriad new digital threats and the equal number of digital opportunities that have become part and parcel of today's post network era Readers will quickly recognize the familiar television franchises on which the contributors focus including Lost The Office Entourage Battlestar Gallactica The L Word and Heroes in order to reveal their impact on an industry in transition While it is not easy for vast bureaucracies to change course executives from key network divisions engaged in an unprecedented period of innovation and collaboration with four important groups members of the Hollywood creative community who wanted to expand television's storytelling worlds and marketing capabilities by incorporating social media members of the Silicon Valley tech community who were keen to rethink television distribution for the digital era members of the Madison Avenue advertising community who were eager to rethink ad supported content and fans who were enthusiastic and willing to use social media story extensions to proselytize on behalf of a favorite network series In the aftermath of the lengthy Writers Guild of America strike of 2007-2008 the networks clamped down on such collaborations and began to reclaim control over their operations locking themselves back into an aging system of interconnected bureaucracies entrenched hierarchies and traditional partners from the past What's next for the future of the television industry Stay tuned or at least online Contributors Vincent Brook Will Brooker John T Caldwell M J Clarke Jonathan Gray Henry Jenkins Derek Johnson Robert V Kozinets Denise Mann Katynka Z Mart nez and Julie Levin Russo
