Actually saw a co-worker in person

"Can you hear me?"

Joked about how long your "commute" is

Said "lol" and meant it

Had a meeting interrupted by a pet or family member

Wore pajama bottoms to a video meeting

Spotted a pet in the background of a video meeting

Did household chores on your lunch break

Drank a glass of water

Took a quick stroll to stretch your legs

Sent a gif to a co-worker

Took a coffee break... or three

FREE SPACE

Did eye strain relief exercises

"Sorry, I was on mute."

"Can everyone see my screen?"

Set up "working hours" #worklifebalance

Used an emoji in an email

Installed a blue light blocker on your computer

Worked from a coffee shop

Tried the Pomodoro technique

Did chair yoga

Saw someone other than a family member or roommate in person

Took a typing speed test... for fun

This book is the essential guide to the pedagogical and industry inspired considerations that must shape how BIM is taught and learned. It will help academics and professional educators to develop programmes that meet the competences required by professional bodies and prepare both graduates and existing practitioners to advance the industry towards higher efficiency and quality. To date, systematic efforts to integrate pedagogical considerations into the way BIM is learned and taught remain non-existent. This book lays the foundation for forming a benchmark around which such an effort is made. It offers principles, best practices, and expected outcomes necessary to BIM curriculum and teaching development for construction-related programs across universities and professional training programmes. The aim of the book is to highlight BIM skill requirements, threshold concepts, and dimensions for practice. Showcase and introduce tried and tested practices and lessons learned in developing BIM-related curricula from leading educators. Recognise and introduce the baseline requirements for BIM education from a pedagogical perspective. Explore the challenges as well as remedial solutions pertaining to BIM education at tertiary education. Form a comprehensive point of reference covering the essential concepts of BIM for students. Promote and integrate pedagogical consideration into BIM education. This book is essential reading for anyone involved in BIM education, digital construction, architecture, and engineering, and for professionals looking for guidance on what the industry expects when it comes to BIM competency.

Making Virtual Reality a Reality Alison Valk, Ximin Mi, Ashley L. Schick, 2023-06-15. Walks readers through the key components of developing library-led research and programming that leverages emerging technologies with the goal of engaging students and faculty. As educational curricula and research evolve to include advanced technologies, libraries must offer programming with these emerging technologies in mind, including the use of virtual reality (VR) and augmented reality (AR). In this timely guide, Valk, Mi, and Schick present readers with tools for assessing their level of organizational readiness to begin such programs and, more importantly, how to sustain them with limited budgets, expertise, and resources. Building on their own experiences, the authors teach readers how to develop technology-rich classes, assess student projects, and overcome technical hurdles. They spotlight this kind of programming as integral to building strategic partnerships in an educational environment. Readers will learn how to adapt and design programs or initiatives in which the necessary technologies are rapidly changing, not only in higher education institutions but also in schools. Worksheets and resources assist readers in reflecting on their own work and developing educational programming to suit their organizational needs.
