extracted from the field of design and could be applied also in the sphere of culture Interdisciplinarity and consideration of users needs are characteristics of contemporary design and can be a significant support when faced with the challenges of cultural heritage management The abovementioned factors act as the premise behind undertaking an analysis of the possibility of adapting the design thinking method to the management of intangible cultural heritage and to develop a model of the design thinking process for this area This research volume is the first comprehensive study of the application of the design thinking method to cultural management especially management of the intangible cultural heritage It asserts that design thinking can bring numerous benefits to organizations involved in the management of intangible cultural heritage and to its depositories It will be of interest to researchers and academics in the fields of public and nonprofit management strategic management and value creation in the field of culture students of design for culture and heritage and practitioners in cultural management

Zentropy Zi-Kui Liu, 2024-08-23 This book compiles selected publications authored or co authored by the editor to present a comprehensive understanding of following topics 1 fundamentals of thermodynamics Materials Genome and zentropy theory 2 zentropy theory for prediction of positive and negative thermal expansions It is noted that while entropy at one scale is well represented by standard statistical mechanics in terms of probability of individual configurations at that scale the theory capable of counting total entropy of a system from different scales is lacking The zentropy theory provides a nested form for configurational entropy enabling multiscale modeling to account for disorder and fluctuations from the electronic scale based on quantum mechanics to the experimental scale based on statistical mechanics using free energies of individual configurations rather than their total energies in standard statistical mechanics The predictions from the zentropy theory demonstrate remarkable agreements with experimental observations for magnetic transitions and associated emergent behaviors of strongly correlated metals and oxides including singularity and instability at critical points and positive and negative thermal expansions without the need of additional truncated models and fitting model parameters beyond density function theory This paves the way to provide the predicted phase equilibrium data for high throughput predictive CALPHAD modeling of complex material systems and those individual configurations may thus be considered as the genomic building blocks of individual phases in the spirit of Materials Genome HWM, 2005-05
