Demystifying Globalization Globalization Governance S:

Demystifying Globalization Colin Hay, David Marsh, 2000 Globalization is the buzz word of the 1990s conjuring a growing diversity of associations and connotations This volume assesses the contribution of the globalisation thesis to our understanding of social political and economic change Industries and Globalization B. Jullien, A. Smith, 2008-10-13 Through analyzing recent change within six industries this book develops a resolutely interdisciplinary approach to studying globalization By combining questions and methodologies from institutionalist economics and political science it proposes a generalizable model for studying the politics of industry It then tests a causal hypothesis Globalization's Contradictions Dennis Conway, Nik Heynen, 2006-11-22 Since the 1980s globalization and neoliberalism have brought about a comprehensive restructuring of everyone's lives People are being disciplined by neoliberal economic agendas transformed by communication and information technology changes global commodity chains and networks and in the Global South in particular destroyed livelihoods debilitating impoverishment disease pandemics among other disastrous disruptions are also globalization's legacy This collection of geographical treatments of such a complex set of processes unearths the contradictions in the impacts of globalization on people's lives Globalization's Contradictions firstly introduces globalization in all its intricacy and contrariness followed on by substantive coverage of globalization's dimensions Other areas that are covered in depth are globalization's macro economic faces globalization's unruly spaces globalization's geo political faces ecological globalization globalization's cultural challenges globalization from below fair globalization Globalization's Contradictions is a critical examination of the continuing role of international and supra national institutions and their involvement in the political economic management and determination of global restructuring Deliberately this collection raises questions even as it offers geographical insights and thoughtful assessments of globalization's multifaceted faces and spaces International Relations Theory Cynthia Weber, 2004-08-02 The new edition of this innovative textbook introduces students to the main theories in international relations It explains and analyzes each theory allowing students to understand and critically engage with the myths and assumptions behind them Each theory is illustrated using the example of a popular film Key features of this textbook include discussion of all the main theories realism and neo realism idealism and neo idealism liberalism constructivism postmodernism gender and globalization two new chapters on the clash of civilizations and Hardt and Negri's Empire innovative use of narratives from films that students will be familiar with Lord of the Flies Independence Day Wag the Dog Fatal Attraction The Truman Show East is East and Memento an accessible and exciting writing style which is well illustrated with film stills boxed key concepts and guides to further reading This breakthrough textbook has been designed to unravel the complexities of international relations theory in a way that gives students a clearer idea of how the theories work and of the myths associated with them Empire's New Clothes Paul Passavant, Jodi Dean, 2004-08-02 The publication of Empire last year created a sensation that spread from academia to the media to cocktail party buzz A book that causes such a scholarly commotion comes along only once every decade or so wrote the New York Times as the book's radical vision of imperial power in the new millennium sparked both histrionic condemnation and serious academic engagement After September 11 this discussion of Empire's political and legal theories was closely linked with the struggle to redefine America's place in a changed world The book was read as a diagnosis of our era and a call for liberatory action while Michael Hardt was acclaimed as the next Jacques Derrida Framing the debate about this landmark work The Empire's New Clothes brings together leading scholars to make sense of Empire's new vocabulary and tackle its claims head on Does the author's vision accurately describe the power structure of today's world Do the processes of globalization today represent a fundamental break from the past Is the book really a communist manifesto for the new age Empire's New Clothes investigates these and other key issues giving academics students and lay readers a handle on a work that touches the most vital themes of current political social and economic life Book Review Digest, 2002-11 Globalization and Varieties of Capitalism Dan Coffey, Carole Thornley, 2009-08-21 This study of contemporary Britain as a capitalism poised between American and European models this innovative book begins with a bold re interpretation of the economic contexts and bequests of Thatcherism that takes up the shock hypothesis of Naomi Klein and roots it in an alternative economic history and finishes with a critical assessment of the New Labour project Pursuing the state in its various policy guises including its attitudes towards transnational corporations the public private interface and gendered employment structures and equalities it explores themes of legitimation denial and opportunism via a series of original studies of comparative policy importance capped by a commentary on the early impact of the first great crisis of the 21st century Building upon a range of recent contributions to both the varieties of capitalism and third way debates the case is made for a globally and historically aware approach that treats the state as a key actor Book cover Journal of Economic Literature, 2000 The Parliamentarian, 1999 Globalization Bob Jessop, 2003 Organized Business Interests in Changing Environments Jrgen R. Grote, Achim Lang, Volker Schneider, 2008-11-03 A book on the path dependent and path creating structures and attitudes of business interest associations in a world of Europeanization and internationalization of markets It includes empirical data on relational information used for network analytic purposes drawn from hundreds of interviews with CEOs Environment & Planning, 2010 Globalization and Politics in the Economic Community of West African States Eric M. Edi, 2007 Globalization and Politics in the Economic Community of West African States offers an engaging perspective on the understanding of globalization in the ECOWAS countries of West Africa This book discusses the political and structural changes that were enacted by the West African leadership and people to meet the challenges of globalization and examines the extent to which these changes furthered democracy and the respect of human rights Adapting to Globalization Janis van der Westhuizen, 2002-04-30 Van der Westhuizen examines the remarkable similarity between the South African and Malaysian political economies analyzes how Malay Afrikaner and African Nationalists have sought to make domestic demands for state intervention compatible with international pressures for economic liberalization and shows what happens when they fail Globalization poses daunting challenges to state elites in the developing world Caught between domestic expectations for state intervention to reduce inequalities on the one hand and global neo liberal pressures for a liberalized economy on the other the developing world bears the brunt of globalization s socially disruptive effects For state elites in deeply divided societies like Malaysia and South Africa the heightened potential for ethnic polarization makes the challenge twice as large In both state elites have sought to mitigate such polarization by embarking upon a program of ethnic redistribution with growth that is advancing subjugated ethnic majorities into the middle class through state intervention without fundamentally alienating the privileged ethnic minority upon whose economic dominance the process of social advance depends However what happens if globalization prevents state elites from employing ethnic redistribution with growth How do these state elites attempt to retain their legitimacy and what happens if they do not succeed Van der Westhuizen examines these issues by showing how state elites in Malaysia and apartheid South Africa successfully pursued ethnic redistribuiton with growth during the heydays of Keynesianism and Fordism and the complexity of such a strategy in the post Cold War post Fordist world of the competition state He examines the ways in which Malaysia and South Africa have adapted to globalization by becoming competition states and the implication this process has for democratic consolidation He provides a provocative analysis of particular interest to scholars students and researchers involved with development studies international political economy and comparative politics

The Regulatory State in an Age of Governance Roger King,2007-09-15 This is a highly readable and comprehensive account of the regulatory state and governance It examines both key concepts and theories and important policy domains and utilises comparative historical and transnational perspectives A critical theme is consideration of whether the regulatory state that has developed in recent decades often as an accompaniment to marketization public policies is an authoritarian or a liberalizing mode of governance

The Polish Quarterly of International Affairs ,2003 Voces Unidas ,1998 Richmond Journal of Global Law and Business ,2000 Defining the Field of Comparative Constitutional Law Vicki C. Jackson,Mark Tushnet,2002-12-30 Essays seeking to define the field of comparative constitutional law

Global Political Economy John Ravenhill,2005 Brings together leading international experts to provide an authoritative introduction to the major subject areas on undergraduate courses in global political economy Each chapter makes use of learning aids such as summary boxes chronologies case studies web links and further reading
