Abel Ferrara Nicole Brenez, 2006-12-20 Nicole Brenez argues for Abel Ferrara's place in a line of grand inventors who have blurred distinctions between industry and avant garde film including Orson Welles Monte Hellman and Nicholas Ray Rather than merely reworking genre film Brenez understands Ferrara's oeuvre as formulating new archetypes that depict the evil of the modern world Focusing as much on the human figure as on elements of storytelling she argues that films such as Bad Lieutenant express this evil through visionary characters struggling against the inadmissible behavior morality images and narratives

Post-Westerns Neil Campbell, 2020-04-01 During the post World War II period the Western like America's other great film genres appeared to collapse as a result of revisionism and the emergence of new forms Perhaps however as theorists like Gilles Deleuze suggest it remains simply maintaining its empty frame Yet this frame is far from empty as Post Westerns shows us rather than collapse the Western instead found a new form through which to scrutinize and question the very assumptions on which the genre was based Employing the ideas of critics such as Deleuze Jacques Derrida and Jacques Rancière Neil Campbell examines the haunted inheritance of the Western in contemporary US culture His book reveals how close examination of certain postwar films including Bad Day at Black Rock The Misfits Lone Star Easy Rider Gas Food Lodging Down in the Valley and No Country for Old Men reconfigures our notions of region and nation the Western and indeed the West itself Campbell suggests that post Westerns are in fact ghost Westerns haunted by the earlier form's devices and styles in ways that at once acknowledge and call into question the West both as such and in its persistent ideological framing of the national identity and values
