Durham,C.C. Plato,2012-12-06 The preparation of a volume of worldwide research contributions can be a time consuming task which is frequently more difficult than many other types of book This particular venture was made easier by the assistance of many people Therefore we wish to acknowledge the suggestions academic support and direction of Dr Kenneth M Weiss our American editor the assistance of the staff of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at the University of Northern Iowa particularly the generous and congenial efforts of Ms Rosemarie Skaine and Mrs Heidi Anderegg whose computer and deciphering skills may be legendary the kind responses to our long distance questions from Mr Martin Scrivener of Kluwer Publications are much appreciated finally the efforts of Dr Paul T Baker and Dr Ralph M Garruto for their help in rounding out the final contents NMD CCP FOREWORD Among the many techniques developed by nineteenth century anatomists for the study of human morphological structures the analysis of dermatoglyphics has proven to be one of the most useful and durable The series of reports presented herein reflect the dynamism of the topic Such analyses provide a valuable tool for measuring the genetic relatedness of human populations and an inexpensive technique for alerting us to the degree of genetic involvement in the causes of many diseases International Journal of Anthropology ,1995 Global Transformations in the Life Sciences, 1945-1980 Patrick Manning,Mat Savelli,2018-06-07 The second half of the twentieth century brought extraordinary transformations in knowledge and practice of the life sciences In an era of decolonization mass social welfare policies and the formation of new international institutions such as UNESCO and the WHO monumental advances were made in both theoretical and practical applications of the life sciences including the discovery of life s molecular processes and substantive improvements in global public health and medicine Combining perspectives from the history of science and world history this volume examines the impact of major world historical processes of the postwar period on the evolution of the life sciences Contributors consider the long term evolution of scientific practice research and innovation across a range of fields and subfields in the life sciences and in the context of Cold War anxieties and ambitions Together they examine how the formation of international organizations and global research programs allowed for transnational exchange and cooperation but in a period rife with competition and nationalist interests which influenced dramatic changes in the field as the postcolonial world order unfolded International Books in Print ,1997 Fingerprints and Other Ridge Skin Impressions Christophe Champod,Chris J. Lennard,Pierre Margot,Milutin Stoilovic,2017-12-19 Since its publication the first edition of Fingerprints and Other Ridge Skin Impressions has become a classic in the field This second edition is completely updated focusing on the latest technology and techniques including current detection procedures applicable processing and analysis methods all while incorporating the expansive growth of literature on the topic since the publication of the original edition Forensic science has been challenged in recent years as a result of errors courts and other scientists contesting verdicts and changes of a fundamental nature related to previous claims of infallibility and absolute individualization As such these factors represent a fundamental change in the way training identifying and reporting should be conducted This book addresses these questions with a clear viewpoint as to where the profession and ridge skin identification in particular must go and what efforts and research will help develop the field over the next several years The second edition introduces several new topics including Discussion of ACE V and research results from ACE V studies Computerized marking systems to help examiners produce reports New probabilistic models and decision theories about ridge skin evidence interpretation introducing Bayesnet tools Fundamental understanding of ridge mark detection techniques with the introduction of new aspects such as nanotechnology immunology and hyperspectral imaging Overview of reagent preparation and application Chapters cover all aspects of the subject including the formation of friction ridges on the skin the deposition of latent marks ridge skin mark identification the detection and enhancement of such marks as well the recording of fingerprint evidence The book serves as an essential reference for practitioners working in the field of fingermark detection and identification as well as legal and police professionals and anyone studying forensic science with a view to understanding current thoughts and challenges in dactyloscopy
