Proven Work From Home Jobs For Teachers:

Tested in the Fire of Hell Richard J Vnuk, 2010-03-16 Although many young Americans are highly trained to be skilled soldiers they have little or no training in dealing with the realities of combat They have not been trained to deal with the consequences of war namely psychological injuries deaths of close friends and the betrayal of what is morally right All this has lead to soldiers experiencing a spiritual death and emotional numbness The church and the government have ignored the soldiers who have been acting out Silencing the survivor is not working too many soldiers are suffering and it is time for the church and government to aid these heroic warriors This is a personal story of my struggle with my conscience and what I was asked to do It is a story of my battle with the psychological consequences of war and the spiritual battle that took place within my soul as I tried to recover from the horrors of war I in hope that it will help other young men and women deal with the realities of war
