The Gothic Other Ruth Bienstock Anolik, Douglas L. Howard, 2014-09-26 Literary use of the Gothic is marked by an anxious encounter with otherness with the dark and mysterious unknown From its earliest manifestations in the turbulent eighteenth century this seemingly escapist mode has provided for authors a useful ground upon which to safely confront very real fears and horrors The essays here examine texts in which Gothic fear is relocated onto the figure of the racial and social Other the Other who replaces the supernatural ghost or grotesque monster as the code for mystery and danger ultimately becoming as horrifying threatening and unknowable as the typical Gothic manifestation The range of essays reveals that writers from many canons and cultures are attracted to the Gothic as a ready medium for expression of racial and social anxieties The essays are grouped into sections that focus on such topics as race religion class and centers of power

The Coloniality of Animal Monstrous Othering in Children's Books, Films, and Toys Donna Varga, 2024-08-19 The Coloniality of Animal Monstrous Othering in Children's Books Films and Toys examines how the portrayal of animals as physically distorted behaviorally depraved and intellectually defective serves to justify their debasement violation and destruction in materials directed toward young consumers The author argues that this animal monstrous Othering arises from the Eurocentric belief in humans natural superiority over animals and the right to categorize animals in accordance with a scale of worthiness that parallels the subjugation of racialized persons The chapters examine a variety of canonical figures like the dissolute wolf of Red Riding Hood stories and the disfigured titular character of the Wonky Donkey picture book alongside non canonical animals including reprobate pigs degenerate sharks self centered flamingos and wicked piranhas To counter this animal debasement Varga juxtaposes these readings with an examination of materials that articulate harmonious animal human interrelationships without dependence on styles of anthropomorphism that diminish animality
