Donahue, Doris Kirchner, 2005-12-01 During the Nazi era many German writers chose or were forced into exile Many others stayed and after the end of this period claimed to have retreated into Inner Emigration The nature of this kind of emigration and the underlying motives of these writers have been hotly debated to this day Though the reception of Inner Emigration has often been confounded by disputes over the term itself the issue is ultimately not a matter of nomenclature but of more far reaching issues of literary evaluation moral discernment and the writing of history This volume presents for the first time to an English speaking readership the complexity of Inner Emigration through the analysis of problematic individual cases of writers who under constant pressure from a watchful dictatorship to conform and to collaborate were caught between conscience and compromise

Women Writers in German-Speaking Countries Elke P. Frederiksen, Elizabeth G. Ametsbichler, 1998-02-28 Women have contributed to the literature of German speaking countries since the Middle Ages and they continue to write important works at the close of the 20th century While research on texts by women writers in German speaking countries has increased substantially most of these authors remain virtually unknown to English speaking scholars and students The first work of its kind in English this reference book contains alphabetically arranged entries for 54 Austrian German and Swiss women writers such as Hrotsvit von Gandersheim Louise Aston Elfriede Jelinek and Erica Pedretti from the tenth century to the present day Each entry includes a biography a discussion of major themes a survey of criticism and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources An introductory essay overviews the history of literature by women in German speaking countries and an extensive bibliography concludes the volume Women have actively shaped literature in German speaking countries from the Middle Ages to the present day These authors continue to enrich the world of letters and an increasing amount of scholarly attention is given to their writings In spite of their contributions however most of these writers are virtually unknown to English speaking scholars and students And though one of the explicit goals of feminist literary and cultural studies has been to provide a voice to a multitude of diverse authors feminist research still seems to focus heavily on texts by authors such as Christa Wolf Ingeborg Bachmann and Bettina von Arnim or on certain periods in 19th and 20th century German literature and culture As a result many other women authors have faded into obscurity Through entries written by expert contributors this reference book provides insights into the life and writings of 54 women authors from German speaking countries Entries are arranged alphabetically to facilitate use while an appendix lists the writers chronologically Included are profiles of authors from the tenth century to the present day such as Hrotsvit von Gandersheim Louise Aston Elfriede Jelinek and Erica Pedretti Each entry includes a biography a discussion of major themes and stylistic features a survey of criticism and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources An introductory essay overviews the history of literature by women in German speaking countries and provides a theoretical context for the work and an extensive bibliography of secondary sources concludes the volume

The Faith of a (Woman) Writer Hofstra University, 1988-02-04 Reflecting the salient undercurrents of contemporary research on women writers this volume is an appraisal of the work of the writer as woman and presents critics perceptions about how women writers have dealt with the complexity of changing female visions in the twentieth century Each of the thirty four essays contributed by some of today s most distinguished writers speaks to the work of a particular twentieth century woman writer and each constitutes a contribution to the scholarly debate Questions are raised as to the appropriate posture a critic should adopt and whether a critic of women s writing should deal with the work as the product of a woman s hand dwelling on the sensibilities of the female consciousness or assume that the proper point of departure remains the artistic and aesthetic norms that have
