THE INSPIRATION FOR JUSTIFIED CITY PRIMEVAL ON FX. As gritty and hard driving a thriller as you'll find. The action never stops, the language sings and stings. Washington Post. The City Primeval in Elmore Leonard's relentlessly gripping classic noir is Detroit, the author's much maligned hometown and the setting for many of the Grand Master's acclaimed crime novels. The Alexander the Great of crime fiction. Pittsburgh Post-Gazette shines in these urban mean streets setting up a downtown showdown between the psychopathic thrill-killing Oklahoma Wildman and the dedicated city cop who's determined to take him down. The creator of U.S. Marshal Raylan Givens of TV's Justified. Elmore Leonard is the equal of any writer who has ever captivated readers with dark tales of heists, hijacks, double crosses, and murder. John D. MacDonald, Dashiell Hammett, James M. Cain, and Robert Parker included, and nobody then or now is better. Police on Screen M. Ray Lott, 2015-01-09. From the Roman Praetorian Guard to the English shire reeve to the U.S. marshals, lawmen have a long and varied history. At first, such groups were often corrupt, guilty of advancing a political agenda rather than protecting citizens. It was about the turn of the twentieth century that police officers, as we know them, came into being. At this time, a number of police reforms, such as civil service and police unions, were developed. Citizen committees were formed to oversee police function. About this same time, the technology of motion pictures was being advanced. Movies evolved from silent films with a limited budget and short running time to films with sound, whose budget was ever rising and whose audience demanded longer, more complex story lines. From the infancy of moviemaking, lawmen of various types were popular subjects. Bounty hunters, sheriffs, private eyes, detectives, and street officers, often portrayed by some of Hollywood's biggest names, have been depicted in every conceivable way. Compiled from a comprehensive examination of the material in question, this volume provides a critical historical analysis of law enforcement in American cinema. From High Noon to The Empire Strikes Back, it examines the police in their many incarnations, with emphasis on the ways in which lawmen are portrayed and how this portrayal changes over time. Each film discussed reveals something about society, subtly commenting on social conditions, racial issues, and government interventions. Major historical events, such as the Great Depression, World War II, and the McCarthy trials, find their way into many of these films. Significant film genres, from science fiction to spaghetti western, are represented. Films examined include Easy Street (1917), a nominal comedy starring Charlie Chaplin; Star Packer (1934), a John Wayne film; The Maltese Falcon (1941), with Humphrey Bogart; Dirty Harry (1971), a Clint Eastwood classic; Leslie Nielsen's spoof Naked Gun (1988 and 1993's Tombstone featuring Kurt Russell). The filmography contains a synopsis along with information on director, screenplay, starring actors, and year of production. Photographs and an index are also included. Gold Miner's Daughter Rick Steeby, 2025-10-09. In 1960, the frozen
