Deportation Et Genocide Entre La Memoire:

Déportation et génocide Annette Wieviorka, 2003-01-15 Durant l'occupation et surtout partir de 1942 environ 140 000 personnes furent déportées de France vers les camps nazis dont 75 000 juifs. Seuls 2500 d'entre eux figurent au nombre des 40 000 survivants. Ces terribles statistiques montrent quel point la déportation et le génocide sont la fois liés et distincts. Pourtant recouverts par le nom emblématique d'Auschwitz, camps de concentration et centres d'extermination ont si souvent confondus par la mémoire collective sans que soit nettement reconnue la spécificité du sort des juifs. C'est reconstituer ce travail de la mémoire tissé d'oublis de stéréotypes et d'amalgames que s'attache dans une démarche pionnière Annette Wieviorka utilisant des archives largement inexplorées ainsi que la masse de témoignages livrés leur retour par les rescapés.

After the Deportation Philip Nord, 2020-12-03 A total of 160 000 people a mix of resisters and Jews were deported from France to camps in Central and Eastern Europe during the Second World War. In this compelling new study Philip Nord addresses how the Deportation as it came to be known was remembered after the war and how Deportation memory from the very outset became politicized against the backdrop of changing domestic and international contexts. He shows how the Deportation generated competing narratives Jewish Catholic Communist and Gaullist and analyzes the stories told by and about deportees after the war and how these stories were given form in literature art film monuments and ceremonies.

Hitler's Slaves Alexander von Plato, Almut Leh, Christoph Thonfeld, 2010-10-01 During World War II at least 13.5 million people were employed as forced labourers in Germany and across the territories occupied by the German Reich. Most came from Russia Ukraine Belarus Moldavia the Baltic countries France Poland and Italy. Among them were 8.4 million civilians working for private companies and public agencies in industry administration and agriculture. In addition there were 4.6 million prisoners of war and 1.7 million concentration camp prisoners who were either subjected to forced labour in concentration or similar camps or were rented out or sold by the SS. While there are numerous publications on forced labour in National Socialist Germany during World War II this publication combines a historical account of events with the biographies and memories of former forced labourers from twenty seven countries offering a comparative international perspective.

Les Déportés en Isère (Tome I) Karin Dupinay-Bedford, 2010-03-01 En mai et juin 1945 les Israélites survivants des camps de la mort arrivent à Grenoble. Un an après ils attendent toujours reconnaissance écoute et compréhension au regard des souffrances endurées au nom de la patrie alors que les Israélites se sont détournés de la logique de guerre. De cette dichotomie naissent l'incompréhension et la nécessité pour les survivants de créer des groupes associatifs dans le but d'obtenir statuts spécifiques et prises en charge par la nation.

Outside Looking In Norman J.W. Goda, Edward Kissi, 2026-01-01 The question of how to conceive of the Holocaust within a wider historical framework remains contentious. For some it is a universal catastrophe that provides a blueprint for understanding comparable instances of targeted violence while for others its particularity precludes any comparison with other genocides Outside Looking In provides a fresh reassessment of the problem of Holocaust universalization highlighting how the legacy of the Holocaust is transmitted across a variety of global cultural contexts Ranging from the representation of the Holocaust in literature and film to how its implications inform the work of politicians and legal theorists this volume spotlights how foundational the Holocaust is to our global social and imaginative outlook

A Literary Analysis of Charlotte Delbo's Concentration Camp Re-presentation Nicole Thatcher, 2000 Among the testimonial writings on WWII those of Charlotte Delbo 1913-1985 occupy a recognized place in the literature of atrocity Critics and researchers have been interested in the way the imaginative truth of her experience has been conveyed yet most have not considered the way she dealt with conventions of literary genres she chose influences that affected her and the cultural and situational elements which had a bearing on her as a writer This work brings together Delbo's writing on her concentrationary experience including plays and prose with her writing that are not related to that
