Sebastian Kempgen, Tilman Berger, Peter Kosta, Karl Gutschmidt, 2009 In many respects the agreement systems of Slavonic languages are close to canonical. Controllers of agreement are often present; they have overt expression of features and they take consistent agreements. The target has obligatory bound expression of agreement and there is matching of feature values for person, number and gender. However, Slavonic also shows several very interesting instances of agreement choices induced by a range of different controller types. These agreement choices provide good evidence for the constraints of the Agreement Hierarchy and the Predicate Hierarchy as well as for various types of condition on agreement, notably animacy and precedence.

Mood in the Languages of Europe Björn Rothstein, Rolf Thieroff, 2010-12-15 This book is the first comprehensive survey of mood in the languages of Europe. It gives readers access to a collection of data on mood. Each article presents the mood system of a specific European language in a way that readers not familiar with this language are able to understand and to interpret the data. The articles contain information on the morphology and semantics of the mood system, the possible combinations of tense and mood morphology and the possible uses of the non-indicative moods. The papers address the explanation of mood from an empirical and descriptive perspective. This book is of interest to scholars of mood and modality, language contact and areal linguistics and typology.

Grammaticalization Ekaterini Stathi, Elke Gehweiler, Ekkehard König, 2010-09-16 This volume contains a selection of papers on grammaticalization from a broad perspective. Some of the papers focus on basic concepts in grammaticalization research such as the concept of grammar as the endpoint of grammaticalization processes, erosion, unidirectionality, the relation between grammaticalization and constructions, subjectification and the relation between grammaticalization and analogy. Other papers shed a critical light on grammaticalization as an explanatory parameter in language change. New case studies of micro processes of grammaticalization complete the selection. The empirical evidence for and against grammaticalization comes from diverse domains: subject control, clitics, reciprocal markers, pronouns and agreement markers, gender markers, auxiliaries, aspectual categories, intensifying adjectives and determiners and pragmatic markers. The languages covered include English and its varieties, German, Dutch, Italian, Spanish, French, Slavonic languages and Turkish. The book will be valuable to scholars working on grammaticalization and language change as well as to those interested in individual languages.
